We, Linda and Joseph Martinez, are asked to explain our delay in filing a claim against EquityBuild, Inc. We believe we did file a claim in a timely manner before the deadline. We followed the instructions for the best and most efficient way for making our claim. We were instructed to use Axos system. We were also informed that it would take quite some time and to be patient. We imputed our documentation and emailed it off to Axos months before the deadline. And we waited for years reading all the court filings and trying to understand them the best we could.

Concerned that this case appeared to be coming close and that we have not had information on settlement payment we contact the law offices RDPH. RDPH then informed us that they have no record of our claim being submitted. RDPH informed us on how to re-submit a claim and that no guarantee on whether it would be honored. This occurred approximately June 2022. We submitted it again, the old fashion way, via US mail. It was received.

We were asked why we did not heed the many deadline warnings. We believed that these warnings were a general reminder to all. That this did not pertain to us because we already submitted our claim through Axos and were all set.

We are 74 years old and the $350,000.00 was a lot of our retirement. Of course we submitted a claim. Or, we assuredly thought we did. I would think that all victims would have submitted a claim. We also think that the seized records would show we had a sizable claim and that a claim form was not received.

Our biggest regret, besides doing business with EquityBuild, was to trust the electronic system and not backing it up by US mail. Receiving pennies on the dollar is a bitter pill to swallow but to be denied for an electronic sending issue is devastating.

Please consider our claim.
