Case No. 1:18-cv-5587

Hon. Manish S. Shah
Magistrate Judge Kim

OBJECTIONS TO RECEIVER’S SECOND MOTION FOR APPROVAL OF FEE
ALLOCATIONS FOR INTERIM PAYMENT PURSUANT TO RECEIVER’S LIEN

Pursuant to Magistrate Judge Kim’s February 10, 2023 Order, Dkt. 1381, the Institutional Lenders identified on Exhibit 1 (the “Objecting Institutional Lenders”) hereby respond and object to the Receiver’s Second Motion for Approval of Fee Allocations for Interim Payment Pursuant to Receiver’s Lien (Dkt. 1321) (“2FAM”).

BACKGROUND

In the 2FAM, the Receiver asks the Court to allow certain of the Receiver’s previously-approved fees to be paid out of property-specific segregated sales proceeds accounts, rather than the Estate’s operating account. The Receiver argues that these fees are within the priming lien the Court previously awarded as to two categories of expenses: “(1) the preservation, management, and liquidation of certain real estate belonging to the Receivership Estate; and (2) the implementation and management of an orderly summary claim-priority adjudication process.” Dkt. 1030, “First Referral Order” at p.2.

The Objecting Institutional Lenders request that the Court deny a collateral surcharge to the extent of the objections, and instead order that the Receiver be paid the objected-to fees out of the Estate's unencumbered assets in the Operating Account (whereas fees not objected to would be paid out of a surcharge on the collateral as requested by the Receiver).

As of January 2023, the Receiver's Operating Account contained $3,059,039.17, which is more than sufficient to cover the fees in the 2FAM. Dkt. 1379 at p. 10 ($1,942,020.72 from Whitley Penn settlement) added to p. 20 ($1,117,018.45 in available funds prior to settlement). Under SEC v. Elliott, 953 F.2d 1560 (11th Cir. 1992) ("Elliot"), cited with approval by the Seventh Circuit in Gaskill v. Gordon, 942 F. Supp. 382, 385 (N.D. Ill. 1996), aff'd, 160 F.3d 361 (7th Cir. 1998), and supported by numerous authorities, the Receiver's fees should be paid from the Operating Account absent a showing that the Receiver's acts benefitted the secured parties. See, e.g., 65 Am. Jur. 2d, Receivers, § 137 at p.2 ("Costs and expenses of a receivership are to be paid, as a general rule, out of income first and, when income is inadequate, out of the property or corpus.").<sup>1</sup> See also Dkt. 1389 at pp. 4-7 (additional arguments illustrating why most receivership fees are generally paid out of the operating account).

Put simply: "As a general rule, the costs of administering the bankruptcy estate must be borne by the estate and its general creditors and such expenses will not be charged against the collateral of secured creditors." Gaskill, 27 F.3d at 251 (citing Matter of Trim-X, Inc., 695 F.2d 296 (7th Cir. 1982)); NDIL Local Rule 66.1 ("The administration of estates by receivers or other officers shall be similar to that in bankruptcy cases.").

May 16, 2019) ("Primarily, the Receiver does not establish the extent of the benefit that VMI received, as opposed to other creditors. Unless VMI is the sole creditor to receive a distribution of proceeds from sales of the VMI properties, every creditor will benefit to some extent from the property management expenditures . . . The Receiver is only entitled to surcharge VMI's secured property to the extent VMI benefitted. Such benefit must be proven with "specificity." (quoting In re Debbie Reynolds Hotel & Casino, Inc., 255 F.3d 1061, 1068 (9th Cir. 2001)).

Judge Lee referred to Magistrate Judge Kim the issue of whether the specific requested Receiver's fees fit into the two priming lien categories. Dkt. 1030, First Referral Order at pp. 16-18 (describing Court's reasoning); Dkts. 1112-1113 (specific referral orders). On February 8 and 10, 2023, Magistrate Judge Kim held oral argument on the Receiver's first Motion for Approval of Allocations of Fees to Properties for Payment Pursuant to Receiver's Lien (Dkt. 1107, "1FAM") and overruled substantially all of the objections presented except where the Receiver agreed that an objection was meritorious. For more background, see Dkt. 1389, Objections to Magistrate Judge Kim's Oral Ruling and Minute Order on Receiver's First Fee Allocation Motion ("1FAM Objections"). Magistrate Judge Kim did not enter a written order, but described his reasoning on the oral record in the February 8 and 10, 2023 Transcripts attached hereto as Exhibit 2.

The 2FAM seeks to allocate property surcharges for fees included in the Receiver's 14th through 16th Fee Petitions, covering October 2021 through June 30, 2022, whereas the 1FAM addressed fees in the Receiver's 1st through 13th Fee Petitions for the Receiver's fees incurred prior to October 2021. Judge Lee approved the Receiver's fees as sought in the 14th through 16th Fee Petitions over the Objecting Institutional Lender's objections, but referred allocation issues to Magistrate Judge Kim, and ordered a holdback of 20% of all fees (but not expenses), with "an additional 20% holdback on any fees to be paid from the sales proceeds." Dkt. 1312 at p.4. Thereafter, Judge Shah granted the Receiver's Seventeenth Interim Application and Motion for Court Approval of Payment of Fees and Expenses of Receiver and Receiver's Retained Professionals (Dkt. 1332), with a 20% holdback of all fees (without additional holdback) and granted the Receiver's allocation surcharge requests without referral to Magistrate Judge Kim and over the Objecting Institutional Lenders' objections (Dkt. 1366).

The fees for which the Receiver now seeks another property surcharge priming lien in the 2FAM (the “2FAM Fees”) are identified in summary form on Dkt. 1321-1, and with detail on every billing entry sorted by property at Dkt. 1321-3 and 1321-4.

ARGUMENT

The Objecting Institutional Lenders respectfully request that their objections be sustained and that the Receiver’s fees be paid from the Estate’s unencumbered assets (operating account) for the same legal reasons they have previously argued (Dkts. 1210, 1347, 1389, 1390), which the Court rejected (Dkts. 1366, 1371), and which Magistrate Judge Kim recommended be rejected (Feb. 8, 2023 Transcript at 9-20, 28-30). Notwithstanding the Court’s prior rulings, as set forth below, the Receiver carries the burden to prove that the specific time entries in the 2FAM fall within the limited priming lien categories approved by the Court and that the requested surcharges comport with applicable law.

The Objecting Institutional Lenders incorporate all prior related objections pursuant to the Court’s instructions in the August 17, 2021 Order, which states:

Going forward, the Lenders are admonished that, to the extent they seek to preserve arguments the Court has already rejected, they should do so in a summary fashion that incorporates citations (with pinpoint cites) to previous filings that have thoroughly laid out the objection. And pursuant to their attorneys’ duty of candor to the tribunal, see Am. Bar. Assoc. Model. R. 3.3(a)(2), the Lenders must simultaneously set forth citations to the Court’s prior rulings on each argument. If the Lenders believe that an objection should be revisited in light of new facts or changed circumstances, then the Lenders must clearly set forth the reasons the Court should depart from its prior rulings. This practice will serve to redirect the resources of Receiver, the Court, and the other stakeholders in this case to the Lenders’ new and potentially meritorious arguments, instead of forcing everyone to retread the same ground every few months.

Dkt. 1031 at pp. 11-12, n.32.

In accordance with these instructions, the Receiver's 2FAM does not offer legal argument but instead "incorporates by reference the arguments and legal authority offered in" the 1FAM. Dkt. 1321 at 3. The Objecting Institutional Lenders do the same here except where necessary to provide context or background to aid in the Court's understanding of the issues.

The Objecting Institutional Lenders identify the following categories of objections to the 2FAM Fees and their position as to each.<sup>2</sup>

1. Claims-Adjudication (other than Group 1)

In the 2FAM, the Receiver allocates certain fees to the second priming lien category—"the implementation and management of an orderly summary claim-priority adjudication process." However, these fees should not be awarded at this time because the Court cannot currently make a determination as to whether Receiver's work provided a benefit to the properties, which is the standard for allowing surcharged fees. See e.g., Elliott, 953 F.2d 1560 (11th Cir. 1992) (fees may be surcharged against secured collateral where the secured collateral actually benefited). "Whether a receiver merits a fee is based on the circumstances surrounding the receivership, and 'results are always relevant.'" Id. at 1576 (quoting SEC v. Moody, 374 F. Supp. 465 (S.D.Tex.1974), aff'd, 519 F.2d 1087 (5th Cir.1975)).

Because it is still unclear if the Receiver's adjudication-related fees will have benefitted the properties (the Group 1 issues are in the appellate process to the Seventh Circuit, see, e.g., Dkt. 1426-1427, and other adjudications are in even earlier stages), this Court should follow Judge

<sup>2</sup> The Objecting Institutional Lenders do not object to fees falling squarely within the first category, involving property management and selling the properties. Notwithstanding, the Objecting Institutional Lenders incorporate their prior objections to the Receiver being awarded a priming lien of any kind and maintain that a Receiver's priming lien never should have been allowed in the first instance. See Dkt. 961 (Objecting Institutional Lenders' objections to Receiver's request for a priming lien).

Lee's ruling below on August 17, 2021 and defer ruling on these fees until the properties are adjudicated in the claims process and the Court has the opportunity to evaluate whether the efforts associated with the Receiver's requested fees benefitted the secured creditor deemed to have priority as to a given property:

The Receiver will also be participating in the claim-priority adjudications by taking discovery, filing a framing report, and making recommendations to the Court, which may assist the to-be-determined first-priority secured creditor in defeating competing claims. But the Receiver rightfully acknowledges that whether such activities conferred a benefit on the victorious creditor cannot be determined until the conclusion of the claims process.

Dkt. 1030, First Referral Order at p.14 n.7.

It makes logical sense that this category of fees must be deferred until after the claims process concludes because it is not yet known whether the Receiver's actions actually benefit the victorious creditor. If, for example, the Objecting Institutional Lenders are victorious, then the Receiver's efforts opposing the Objecting Institutional Lenders clearly did not confer a benefit and cannot be surcharged against the Objecting Institutional Lender's Collateral. Elliott, 953 F.2d at 1578 (“[S]ecured investors are not liable for the Receiver's time spent on activities adverse to them.”). See also Dkt. 1389 pp. 4-7, 9-10 (additional arguments and authorities from the Objecting Institutional Lenders on this point).

For example, the Receiver has spent time analyzing claims, but we do not know (except as to Group 1) whose claims were analyzed, what the Receiver's analysis or conclusions were, and whether the Receiver's actions ultimately will benefit the victorious party once that group's claims are litigated. As such, it is premature to surcharge the collateral for such time. See, e.g., Exhibit 3, General Allocations Objections, lines 266, 269, 305, 380.

Similarly, on June 2, 2022, the Receiver's counsel Jodi Wine devoted time to analyzing the claims associated with Properties 53 and 55, likely in preparation for settlement conferences. See Exhibit 4, Property-Specific Objections, at lines 11724-25. The Receiver's efforts in the settlement conference process have included weeding through EquityBuild's records to advise on which claimants may have agreed to rollovers or were otherwise repaid, so this work benefits the process, but whether it benefits the victorious secured creditor or not will depend on who that turns out to be and the specific arithmetic involved as to whether the weeding was relevant to the victorious secured creditor's recovery. Any ruling on allocation should therefore be reserved.

Notwithstanding, Magistrate Judge Kim recommended this category of objection be overruled as to the Receiver's First Allocation Motion. See Feb. 8, 2023 Transcript at 56:15-19; and 64:24-25 and 65:1-7. The Court also overruled the Group 1 Institutional Lender objections on this issue as to the Receiver's 17th Fee Petition, Dkt. 1366 at p.2 ("The "Group 1" issues for which the Receiver seeks payment in this application are compensable as claims administration. The court's forthcoming ruling on the priority dispute in the Group 1 bucket is not reason to delay payment for the tasks within the Seventeenth Application.").

2. Claims Adjudication – Group 1 Litigation

A subset of the Receiver's adjudication-related 2FAM Fees relate to litigating the priority of claimants on Group 1 properties. Even though the Court issued an order on Group 1 priority, Dkt. 1386, whether this work benefitted the properties or the victorious secured creditor is still not known because the Receiver recommended that certain Individual Investor-Lenders take priority over the Institutional Lenders. The Court ruled consistent with that recommendation (Dkt. 1386, the "Group 1 Ruling"), and the Court's ruling is in the process of being appealed (Dkt. 1403, 1426-1427).

2FAM Fees for which the Objecting Institutional Lenders object on this basis are reflected as “Group 1 Adjudication” in Exhibit 4. The Receiver expended significant fees in analyzing the Group 1 claims and drafting the Receiver’s accompanying position statement. See, e.g., Exh. 4 at line 5855 (“extensive review and update of claims related to properties in anticipation for filing the position statement received (3074 Cheltenham)”) and line 5923 (“continue working on position statement and related legal research and database searches (Group 1) (2.3)).

If the Court’s Group 1 ruling is affirmed on appeal, the Receiver will have benefitted the victorious Individual Investor-Lenders by these activities, including its position statement (Dkt. 1201) and the Objecting Institutional-Lenders would have no objection to the 2FAM Fees in this Group 1 Adjudication Category. The Receiver’s efforts, if the ruling is affirmed on appeal, will have led to an increase in the awarded claim amounts of many (deemed) first priority secure claimants on the basis that competing individuals equal in priority recovered some of their investment from EquityBuild, agreed to transfer or rollover their purported security interest to other unsecured investments, failed to provide sufficient supporting documentation, failed to perfect any purported secured interest they may have had, or were EquityBuild insiders not entitled to any recovery because they had some awareness of the scheme as it unfolded. See Dkt. 1201 at pp. 10-15 (Receiver’s calculations recommending denial of claims to persons already repaid or to insiders, and for other meritorious reasons).

If the Institutional Lenders ultimately prevail on appeal regarding Group 1, however, none of that work will be relevant to the Institutional Lenders because they will be deemed the sole and latest secured creditor and entitled to all sales proceeds, so there will be no benefit to them or the secured property on account of reductions in unsecured or competing junior secured claim amounts, and the Receiver's fees expended to unravel that web would therefore not be entitled to a priming lien.

Moreover, the Receiver is disproportionately assigning fees to Group 1 because the Receiver's work for Group 1, as the first group addressed, will invariably benefit other groups going forward. Research on issues applicable to both Group 1 and other properties, for example, will benefit the other properties, but under the Receiver's proposed allocation, the expense would be borne only by the parties relating to Group 1. Although the Receiver is claiming less than $5,000 in fees for the majority of properties, there are several, Properties 74-78, for which he is claiming over $40,000 in fees. See 2FAM (Dkt. 1321) at Exh. A. These fees demonstrate that the Receiver spent a disproportionate amount of time at the beginning of this case developing fundamental issues that will extend to all the other groups. It is inequitable to assign all those fees to Group 1.

We still do not know the extent to which any secured parties, individual or institutional, benefitted from the Receiver's Group 1 adjudication work, and thus the Group 1 ruling highlights why pending appeal is too early to award the Receiver a priming lien (much less before). Accordingly, the Group 1 Institutional-Lenders respectfully request that the Court defer a priming lien ruling on these fees until after the appellate process on the Group 1 Ruling has completed, notwithstanding that Magistrate Judge Kim previously declined to do so as to the 1FAM and Judge Shah declined to do for the 17th Fee Petition. See Feb. 8, 2023 Transcript at pp. 41-65; Objecting Institutional Lender arguments regarding same at Dkt. 1389 p. 10; Dkt. 1366 at p.2 ("The "Group 1" issues for which the Receiver seeks payment in this application are compensable as claims administration. The court's forthcoming ruling on the priority dispute in the Group 1 bucket is not reason to delay payment for the tasks within the Seventeenth Application.”). Respectfully, these rulings are inconsistent with Elliot and other authorities as discussed above.

3. Non-Adjudicatory Claims-Related Fees

The 2FAM includes fees that relate to the claims against properties generally, but are not adjudicatory in nature, including searching for potential claims, coordination with persons who might make claims but have not done so, and the initial intake and organization of the claims. These fees are general receivership duties and part of the administration of any receivership estate regardless of the mechanics of the adjudication of competing lien claims, and therefore should not be surcharged against secured collateral. This type of work is administrative in nature and does not relate to the adjudication or resolution of any claims. 2FAM Fees for which the Objecting Institutional Lenders object on this basis are identified as “fees charged to all properties pro rata.” Representative examples include the following: dealing with changes in custodians for IRA accounts. See Exh. 3, lines 396, 405. On June 8, 2022, Receiver’s counsel JR spent time to “update claim numbers including property numbers for all claims related to EBF Mortgagee spreadsheet (5450 Indiana) (1.4) (Exh. 4., line 11908). The Receiver needs to keep the claims organized by number but maintaining organization associated with the claims process is the quintessential duty of the receiver of any estate, is not “weeding through” claims of various merit, and is just an administrative claims-related task that should not be surcharged against the properties. Similarly, the Receiver has several entries similar to Property-Specific Objection (Exh. 4) line 8002, “extensive review of claims for property, update claimant spreadsheet with pertinent information and save various supporting documents in electronic files (1700 Juneway). Again the Receiver should be paid for this work out of the Operating Account, because the Receiver needs to keep itself organized, but such organization is not an activity that confers a benefit to the secured property.

Thus, these fees cannot and do not benefit the victorious secured creditor. The Court's priming lien order was limited to the "orderly summary claim-priority adjudication process" (Dkt. 1030, First Referral Order at p.2), not the mere solicitation, receipt, and administering claims or anything else remotely related to the claims process.

In ruling on the 1FAM, Magistrate Judge Kim disagreed with the Institutional-Lenders' arguments and recommended that all claim-related fees be deemed to fit the second category because that work benefits the process or Estate generally, overruling the Institutional-Lenders' objections. See Objecting Institutional Lender arguments on this issue at Dkt. 1210 at p.14, Dkt. 1389 at pp. 10-11; Feb. 8, 2023 Transcript at pp. 65-77; and Dkt. 1381, Magistrate Judge Kim's recommendation that such objections be overruled). Judge Shah also rejected similar objections as to the Receiver's 17th Fee Petition (Dkt. 1332) stating: "Managing the claims process includes giving notice to interested parties, locating and preserving records, and handling creditor inquiries." Dkt. 1366 at 2. Respectfully, the recommendation and ruling are inconsistent with the SEC federal equity receivership case law cited above, including but not limited to Elliot.

4. General Receivership Operations

Some of the Receiver's 2FAM Fees do not benefit the secured properties specifically, but are instead fees that would have been incurred even if there were no secured creditors and even if there were no secured claim adjudication process.

2FAM Fees for which the Objecting Institutional Lenders object on this basis are identified as "General Receivership Activities." One such item is a "motion to retain counsel" that appears to be totally unrelated to the claims process. See Exh. 3, line 271. Other representative examples include the following: Exh. 4, line 9040, “confer with A. Watychowicz regarding service on lienholders of record.” Ensuring service is a quintessential general receivership task which should be paid out of the operating account rather than a surcharge on the secured property because the activity is general and does not benefit the secured creditor in particular.

In addition, the Receiver seeks to surcharge the secured collateral for preserving and reviewing EquityBuild’s database, which are part of the general administration of the Estate. Moreover, if and to the extent that the Receiver contends that certain of those actions ultimately will be involved in the claims adjudication process, neither the Court nor the parties can discern from the time entries what claims and properties were involved or the ultimate benefit to the victorious party once litigated. As such, it is premature to surcharge the collateral for such time. See, e.g., Exh. 3, lines 159 and 559 and Exh. 4, lines 3290, 3406.

It is improper to surcharge these fees against secured collateral, especially when the Receiver’s general operating account contains over $3 million. See Dkt. 1389 at pp. 5, 7-8 (citing In re Trim-X, Inc., 695 F.2d 296, 301 (7th Cir. 1982) (“Traditionally administrative expenses have not been charged against secured creditors. An exception to that general rule has been recognized, however, when expenses of preservation are incurred primarily for the benefit of the secured creditor or where the creditor caused or consented to such expenses.”) and In re K&K Lakeland, Inc., 128 F.2d 203, 208-10 (4th Cir. 1999) (merely providing a general benefit to the estate does not justify a collateral surcharge)).

As one court aptly summarized:

But the fund raised from the mortgaged property which was the proper subject of the foreclosure receivership has liabilities wholly distinct from those attaching to the fund arising from the general assets, as much so as if separate receivers had been appointed for each. For such service and expense as pertained specially to the mortgaged property and its preservation and sale, that fund is primarily liable. Likewise such as pertained specially to the general assets must be charged against them alone. The receiver ought to distinguish clearly between the two in itemized accounts. Such items as benefited both funds but cannot be accurately distributed may be apportioned fairly between them. That the general fund may be exhausted by the charges against it is no reason for charging anything additional against the mortgage fund.

Bank of Com. & Tr. Co. v Hood, 65 F.2d 281, 283 (5th Cir. 1933) (cited with approval by the Seventh Circuit in Gaskill, 27 F.3d at 251). Here, the Operating Account has sufficient funds to satisfy the 2FAM Fees objected to as General Receivership tasks, and there is no justification for a surcharge on the collateral as to such administrative duties.

As to the 1FAM, Magistrate Judge Kim recommended that objections falling into this category be overruled. See Objecting Institutional Lenders' arguments on this issue at Dkt. 1210, pp. 12-13, overruled by Magistrate Judge Kim's Recommendation, Dkt. 1381 and Feb. 10, 2023 Transcript at pp. 137-147. Respectfully, this recommendation is inconsistent with the SEC federal equity receivership case law cited above, including but not limited to Elliot, and related Seventh Circuit case law, including but not limited to, In re Trim-X, Inc. and Gaskill.

5. Ambiguous Entries

The 2FAM contains fees for which it is impossible to know whether they fall within the two limited priming lien categories because the time entries are ambiguous. The Receiver's failure to include sufficiently detailed time entries, as reflected by objections with the Ambiguous label, violates the SEC's Billing Instructions for Receiver's in Civil Actions Commenced by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. <https://www.sec.gov/oiea/Article/billinginstructions.pdf>. Specifically, Section D(1) requires the Receiver's records to contain "Time records [which] set forth in reasonable detail an appropriate narrative description of the services rendered. Without limiting the foregoing, the description should include indications of the participants in, as well as the scope, identification and purpose of the activity that is reasonable in the circumstances.”

Moreover, even if the SEC chose to ignore this guideline with respect to the initial fee petition, specificity is required to surcharge collateral because, without it, the Court cannot determine if and what collateral benefitted from the Receiver’s action. This Court should not award the Receiver any fees that do not satisfy this requirement, nor should the SEC support awarding any such fees.

6. General Allocations Pro Rata

The Receiver also seeks to surcharge the secured collateral for fees the Receiver acknowledges were not associated with any specific property or set of properties and which the Receiver contends should therefore be charged against all of the properties pro rata. Dkt. 1321, Exh. B. In addition to some of the activities falling outside the two limited priming lien categories, denoted by the same labels for the same objections described above, there are also line items that clearly appear, by their description, to apply to a particular property or set of properties rather than all the properties, but which nevertheless have been charged to all of the properties.

2FAM Fees for which the Objecting Institutional Lenders object on this basis are labeled as “fees charged to all properties pro rata.” Representative examples include the following: General Allocation Objections (Exh. 3), line 101, “Attention to voice message from claimant and respond by email”; this entry obviously relates to a single claimant who left a voice message and the Receiver’s response to same, yet the Receiver improperly seeks to charge all properties equally pro rata for this activity. Line 263 of Exh. 3 is for “work on communication with claimant regarding potential change of custodian and standard response to similar inquiries”; this appears to relate to retirement plan custodian issues, and to be sure, several claimants are retirement plans with custodian issues, but the vast majority of the claims and properties do not include any “custodian” issues so it is improper for the Receiver to bill this task to all properties pro rata even if it would be proper to allocate it to more than a single property. On the first page of Dkt. 1321 Exh. B, the third line, the Receiver’s time entry for October 1, 2021 is “Exchange correspondence with J. Wine regarding title company subpoena.” Not all of the properties involve a title company, and more than one title company is involved in at least one receivership property. Therefore, it is not possible that this entry related to all properties equally. As another example, line 490 of Exh. 4, entry dated May 19, 2022, states: “attention to email from claimant requesting update to her contact information, update spreadsheets, and related response to claimant (all).” Obviously this relates to a specific female claimant who at most may claim an interest in a property or a limited number of properties, and should not be surcharged to all of the properties equally as the Receiver proposes.

CONCLUSION

For each of the foregoing reasons, the Objecting Institutional Lenders respectfully request that the Court not surcharge the collateral for Receiver’s fees that do not benefit that collateral as specified by the objections noted in the spreadsheets associated with the specific fees.

Respectfully submitted,

3 Securities and Exchange Commission vs. Equitybuild, Inc., et 4 al.

5 THE COURT: So, in terms of getting your names on the 6 record, let me just go ahead and prompt you before you say

17 the receiver.

18 THE COURT: On the lenders' side, like I did the last
19 time we were on the phone, I will name the institutional
20 lender and let's find out if anyone is here on behalf of that 21 institutional lender.

15 THE COURT: 1111 Crest Drive, LLC?

16 MR. NATARELLI: Brett Natarelli for that entity.

17 THE COURT: Sabal?

18 MR. McCLAIN: Andrew McClain.

19 THE COURT: Okay. All of the lenders are represented
20 here in court today.

21 As I indicated during our last status hearing by 22 phone, the purpose of today's hearing is for me to get a
23 better understanding of the objections and also, in some 24 circumstances, to have the objectors walk me through your 25 objections.

1           In terms of organization, I think what I'll do is 2 follow the lender's response and its organization. In the 3 response, the lenders pointed out 11 objections.

4           Yes?

5           MR. JOHNSON: Your Honor, if I may, I'm Michael 6 Johnson. I'm with Arnold & Porter. I represent the Federal 7 Housing Finance Agency.

8           May I approach just --

9           THE COURT: Yes.

10          MR. JOHNSON: Thank you.

11          Before the Court and all my friends get into that 12 agenda, I just wanted to note for the record that -- first of 13 all, I was pro hac'd in, and my colleague, our Illinois
14 counsel, Daniel Raymond is in the room.

15          I wanted to note for the record that FHFA maintains 16 its objections to any allocations to the property at 1131-41
17 East 79th and the property at 7024-32 South Paxton. Those 18 were detailed in our March 4th submission to your Honor and,
19 then, our objection to your Honor's ruling that we tendered to 20 the district court on July 6th of last year. That's all on 21 appeal to the Seventh Circuit.

22          I just wanted the record to be clear that we maintain 23 and reiterate those objections.

24          THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

25          MR. JOHNSON: Thank you, your Honor.

1           THE COURT: In terms of the objections, I'm going to 2 jump around and maybe start with ones that are perhaps easier
3 to deal with. For example, when I say "lenders' objection,"
4 I'm referring to Document No. 1210. And within the response,
5 there are sub-headings. And these are numbered, so I'll use
6 the same numbering system that the lenders used.

7           So, for example, No. 4. And this is titled, "Rent
8 Restoration."

9           So, if I understand the argument correctly, at some 10 point the receiver was using rent money from Property A to pay
11 for repairs, as an example, that were needed for Property B;
12 and, the lenders then came in and said, hey, wait a second,
13 you shouldn't be using our money -- or at least that's the 14 logic -- to fix somebody else's property.

15           The court agreed and said, receiver, you need to keep 16 everything separate and segregate the funds, and not to use
17 rent money unless it's for that particular property.

18           Do I have that right?

19           MR. DAMASHEK: Correct.

20           THE COURT: Your name?

21           MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek.

22           THE COURT: What else are you arguing under rent
23 restoration other than what I just described?

24           MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, I think there's an 25 additional piece --

1 THE COURT: Your name?

2 MR. NATARELLI: Brent Natarelli.

3 There's an additional piece, which is that the 4 receiver in other -- in some cases, the receiver used rents
5 from one property to pay another. And the court ordered them
6 not to do that anymore. So, part of the expense was fixing --

7 THE COURT: I just said that.

8 MR. NATARELLI: Yes.

9 THE COURT: What else?

10 MR. NATARELLI: The additional piece is there were 11 times where the receiver used the receiver's operating 12 account, as they should have, to fund different properties and 13 then needed to go back and reallocate to make that a specific 14 charge by property.

15 And I don't think any of us contest the expenses
16 attributable to the property being charged to the property.
17 What we're objecting to is the fees associated with figuring
18 out what goes with what having a priming lien.

19 THE COURT: Meaning once Judge Lee said, yes, you
20 should segregate everything, the receiver then had to go back
21 and fix everything, essentially, right?

22 MR. NATARELLI: That's correct.

23 THE COURT: And it took some time to do so, and the 24 receiver is charging the receiver estate for those fees?

25 MR. NATARELLI: I think in some cases, yes, and in

1 other cases, no. They were charging specific properties that 2 were thought to be unencumbered and, then, later it was 3 discovered they were, in fact, encumbered.

4 THE COURT: So, in other words, the lenders think
5 that the receiver should eat those fees?

6 MR. NATARELLI: No, your Honor. We're arguing that 7 the fees should be drawn from the operating account, which now
8 has additional funds that were not present several months ago.

9 There's been a recovery from Whitley Penn for several 10 million dollars, that will go to the operating account.
11 There's over a million dollars on hand in the operating 12 account that is available. There's also an additional source
13 of recovery for unsecured creditors in a recent Wells Fargo
14 class action settlement. And there are a number of additional 15 actions that are pending against either Equitybuild, 16 professionals, outside counsel, all of which --

17 THE COURT: You're taking up way too much time.
18 Operating account, is that in your response? I
19 didn't see it.

20 MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, we didn't address the 21 settlements and potential settlements in the response because 22 those were not present at that time. Those didn't --

23 THE COURT: No, no, no.

24 MR. NATARELLI: -- exist yet.

25 THE COURT: The idea that -- you're not saying that

1 the receiver should not eat the fees; the receiver should be
2 charging the operating account. And my question is: Is that 3 in the response? Because I didn't see it. I just want to be 4 clear on this.

5 MR. NATARELLI: No, it's not in the response, your 6 Honor. And I think that's because at the time of the 7 response, it was assumed that the operating account did not
8 have sufficient funds to possibly fund any of the fees,
9 whereas that has since changed.

10 THE COURT: Let me then turn to the receiver and ask
11 some questions.

12 Number one, when the receiver was appointed, were you
13 directed by the court to segregate all rent funds?

14 MR. RACHLIS: No, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: When you took over as the receiver, was 16 there any indication that the Cohens were not, in fact,
17 commingling funds in order to maintain their properties?

18 MR. RACHLIS: The evidence that we had was that they 19 were commingling funds.

20 THE COURT: And tell me about this operating account
21 that Mr. Natarelli just raised for the first time in court.

22 MR. RACHLIS: So, what he is referring to is -- the 23 receiver had -- all along had an operating account, from which 24 to pay for expenses associated with various properties or 25 various issues that were ongoing. So, that was the account

1 that was being used, and opened when the receivership began
2 when the receiver was appointed. That's where funds from the 3 Cohens were collected and placed, into there. That's where 4 rent receipts were placed into the receivership account. So,
5 that account had been present.

6 What Mr. Natarelli is referring to at this point in 7 time are different funds that have been obtained through 8 third-party settlements, that go to the operating account
9 because they're not affiliated with a specific property.
10 They're strictly related to this third-party action for -- and 11 that can be used for a variety of things.

12 I will say, your Honor, this issue has come up just a 13 few weeks ago before Judge Shah in response to --

14 THE COURT: I was going to get to that.

15 MR. RACHLIS: Oh, I'm sorry.

16 THE COURT: No, no, go on. It's fine.

17 MR. RACHLIS: Judge, so we had -- the 17th fee
18 application was before Judge Shah, and -- as well as 19 allocation sheets presented to him. And the objection that 20 was raised at that point in time included the one that you've 21 just heard -- which is new; that's a new thing; this was not 22 part of the prior presentation -- where it was articulated by 23 these lenders that those dollars from these new funds should 24 be used for purposes of paying off the 17th fee application,
25 which the court had granted.

1           The court rejected that and understood that the 2 allocations still are proper, as they are from what was 3 presented to your Honor here, because they go property by 4 property. Benefits were received by the property. And there
5 is both logic and law that supports the fact that those 6 properties should be paying for what those benefits were.

7           So, the court rejected the idea that this separate
8 account should now be used and that the properties should not 9 pay for the benefits and for the allocated amounts that were 10 provided to Judge -- before Judge Shah in that 17th
11 application.

12           THE COURT: So, let me come back to you, Mr.
13 Natarelli.

14           Not only is the argument not raised in the response;
15 there appears that perhaps the law of the case should apply in 16 terms of lenders arguing that point.

17           What are your thoughts?

18           MR. NATARELLI: Yes, two points. With respect to it
19 was not raised in the response, it was in the sense that there 20 is a universe of fees that are not being allocated to any 21 specific property. They are being charged to the --

22           THE COURT: Let's --

23           MR. NATARELLI: -- receiver's operating account.

24           THE COURT: Let's focus on --

25           MR. NATARELLI: That's undisputed.

1 THE COURT: Let's focus on this, this particular --
2 the fees that are associated with rent restoration.

3 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, Ron Damashek. Can I jump in 4 here?

5 THE COURT: No, no. Mr. Natarelli, it's his turn.
6 Go ahead.

7 MR. NATARELLI: Well, Judge, the point is the idea
8 that there would be funds to pay the receiver coming out of 9 the operating fund, that's not a new idea. That's been going
10 on since the beginning of the receivership. That's always --

11 THE COURT: And Judge Shah has said, no, that's not 12 happening?

13 MR. NATARELLI: No. Judge Shah permitted that, and 14 the receiver agreed with it, as to a certain set of fees.
15 And, then, there was another set of fees where it was 16 disputed, whether it should go in that bucket or it should go
17 to a specific property --

18 THE COURT: So, coming back to the rent restoration
19 fees, what is the current status?

20 MR. NATARELLI: With respect to the 17th fee
21 petition, to the extent there were restoration fees -- and I'm 22 not sure there were any; or, if there were, they were not 23 significant -- those would, per Judge Shah's order, be 24 allocated to specific properties associated with the 17th fee
25 petition.

1           That petition is not before your Honor today. What's
2 before your Honor are the first, I believe, eleven petitions,
3 which cover a different period of time --

4           THE COURT: Okay.

5           MR. NATARELLI: -- where the restoration was more at 6 issue.

7           THE COURT: That's fine.

8           MR. NATARELLI: Yes.

9           THE COURT: Let's go back, then, to the initial 10 question. I asked the question are the lenders asking the 11 receiver to eat those fees, and you said, no, they should come
12 out of the operating funds. But that argument was never 13 raised. So, what was the argument that's in the response, 14 then?

15           MR. NATARELLI: Well, no, I believe that argument is 16 raised in the sense that what's before --

17           THE COURT: Where is it?

18           MR. NATARELLI: What's before your Honor is 19 allocation --

20           THE COURT: No, no.

21           MR. NATARELLI: -- by property.

22           THE COURT: Where is the response argument that it
23 should come out of the operating fund -- operating account?

24           MR. NATARELLI: I believe that's the entire response,
25 your Honor. There was no argument --

1 THE COURT: The entire response. You're talking
2 about at 1210? 1210 has the operating account argument?

3 MR. NATARELLI: Well, the issue in 1210 is whether 4 the receiver should be entitled to a priming lien. Whether 5 the receiver should --

6 THE COURT: Well, that has been resolved, right?
7 They do have a priming lien.

8 MR. NATARELLI: They have a priming lien as to two 9 categories of expenses, which are designated in Docket 1030.
10 I actually have a handout I can use which --

11 THE COURT: You're not --

12 MR. NATARELLI: -- illustrates those two --

13 THE COURT: -- making sense to me.

14 This isn't a very difficult issue. We're talking
15 about fees that the receiver expended in terms of restoring -- 16 in other words, fixing -- the rent money, right?

17 MR. NATARELLI: Correct.

18 THE COURT: And you're saying, well, wait a second,
19 those fees shouldn't come out of the properties, or at least 20 the properties that we are dealing with here. But why?

21 MR. NATARELLI: Because they're expenses that the 22 receiver would have to endure anyway, regardless of whether 23 there were any secured creditors to deal with or not. It has 24 to do with just the mere existence of the receivership, which 25 is traditionally billed toward the operating account. And --

1 THE COURT: That doesn't answer the question as to 2 why these fees should not be taken out of each building.

3 MR. NATARELLI: Well --

4 THE COURT: Maybe Mr. Damashek has a better argument.

5 MR. DAMASHEK: Thank you, Judge.

6 The issue here is that the receiver initially
7 improperly used money from one account to pay another account.
8 He --

9 THE COURT: When you say "one account to pay another
10 account," what do you mean?

11 MR. DAMASHEK: One property's account. So, if one
12 property had a positive cash flow and another property had a 13 negative cash flow, the receiver took from the positive cash
14 flow to the negative cash flow.

15 THE COURT: And why is that improper?

16 MR. DAMASHEK: The court has ruled that's improper.
17 The --

18 THE COURT: Wait. I just asked Mr. -- I'm sorry.

19 MR. RACHLIS: Rachlis.

20 THE COURT: -- Rachlis whether the receiver was told 21 not to do that and they did it anyway. And he said, no, that 22 was never the case.

23 So, how was it improper?

24 MR. DAMASHEK: There is a court order -- the 25 institutional lenders filed a motion seeking to stop that

1 practice, basically saying, we have a security interest in
2 Property A receipts; you can't use them for B.

3 The court order that -- granted that motion. And the 4 order --

5 THE COURT: Ah. So, the court order after it
6 happened, right?

7 MR. DAMASHEK: Correct.

8 THE COURT: So, there was nothing improper about what 9 Mr. Rachlis did before the motion was filed.

10 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, respectfully, the receiver
11 never should have done it in the --

12 THE COURT: Why?

13 MR. DAMASHEK: -- first place.

14 THE COURT: Why? Why is that improper? Why should 15 the receiver not have done so?

16 In other words, if I am Cohen and I own a hundred 17 properties, I can do whatever I want with the rent money. If 18 Property A is positive cash flow and I have Property B that 19 has some doors that I need to fix, what's so wrong with me
20 taking that money and fixing Property B?

21 MR. DAMASHEK: I'm happy to answer the question.
22 Respectfully, it's already been answered by the district court
23 by saying it was an improper behavior.

24 The receiver is different than Mr. Cohen. The 25 receiver -- whatever Mr. Cohen was doing clearly was improper.

1 But the receiver, as a receiver, has got to treat each
2 property separately because each of us, as institutional
3 lenders, have security interests in that collateral and we
4 have assignments of rents. You can't just take our security
5 to do that. But the court has already ruled on that.

6 And, if I may, the issue here --

7 THE COURT: But let me stop you just for a second.

8 MR. DAMASHEK: Go ahead.

9 THE COURT: But you don't have any rights to the 10 operating account? You don't have any security interest in 11 the operating account?

12 MR. DAMASHEK: I have a security interest in the 13 rents from Property A, let's say. That security interest
14 follows those proceeds of rents. If those proceeds go into 15 the operating account, my position would be my lien would 16 track them. But I think that we're focusing on the wrong
17 issue, respectfully.

18 The issue here, in my view, is when the receiver has 19 taken an action which the court has then granted our motion
20 saying you should restore those funds and then the receiver
21 restores those funds, we, as secured lenders, should not be 22 charged for the receiver improperly using our funds in the 23 first place and then contesting our -- there was a contested
24 motion. There's a lot of time in here on the contested
25 motion, which the receiver lost. The receiver should not be

1 able to allocate his loss against us to our account; and,
2 then, when he has to set things right, he shouldn't be able to 3 surcharge our collateral.

4 Now, there is a second prong of this because in the 5 reply memorandum, the receiver said, well, we were doing two 6 things. One is we were restoring funds that were -- that the 7 court ordered us to restore, but we also had advanced some of 8 our own funds and we were seeking reimbursement of those 9 funds. And the problem with that is there really was no
10 distinction in the motion that the receiver set forth.

11 And it's actually a compound -- there are a lot of 12 compound entry where the receiver, for instance, says, I have 13 a motion to restore funds and reimburse funds, and my charge
14 for that is one hour. I don't think he should get the 15 restoration. And if he combines it with reimbursing the 16 funds, then I don't know whether it was .3 hours on 17 restoration, .7 hours on reimbursement, or vice versa.

18 So, the big argument is, receiver, when you took the 19 wrong step, you filed -- improperly used our funds. When the 20 court ordered -- when you fought us and you lost and when the 21 court ordered you to restore, then you don't have a right to 22 get -- surcharge us for that. And if you have an entry which 23 says, I am restoring and reimbursing, it's a compound entry
24 and there's no way for this Court to know the percentage.

25 THE COURT: Well, then complete your argument for me.

1 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes.

2 THE COURT: Because the operating account didn't come
3 into play at all until a few weeks ago. So, complete the 4 argument for me. Are you saying that the receiver should eat
5 the fees?

6 MR. DAMASHEK: If I may, the point of our motion was 7 you can't surcharge our properties for the fees. And 8 personally, on behalf of my institutional lender, I would say
9 the receiver should be eating the fees related to restoration.

10 THE COURT: Well, that's not going to happen.

11 MR. DAMASHEK: But --

12 THE COURT: The receiver will get paid for the work
13 performed in terms of restoring. The point is the court never 14 ordered the receiver to do certain things. The motion was 15 filed and, to the benefit of the institutional lenders and all 16 others who may have a secured interest in each building, the 17 receiver then had to do the work to segregate all the funds, 18 which benefits all secured interestholders because now you've 19 got what you wanted.

20 And I am not going to sit here and say the receiver
21 is not going to get paid for the work performed. That's going 22 to be something that you need to accept, that the receiver
23 will get paid.

24 The purpose of the allocation motion simply is, where 25 is the money coming from? And the operating account was never

1 discussed in the motion or the response from the lenders.

2           So, in terms of the rent restoration, I think the 3 lenders are taking this approach that if the receiver's work
4 did not add monetary value to the credit or the institutional
5 lenders' interest, it somehow did not benefit.

6           But I am not going to work from scratch. Judge Lee
7 has already ordered that the receiver's work has benefitted
8 all. Because in a case like this, you need a neutral
9 individual to sort out the impossible task of trying to sell
10 and, then, to try to distribute those funds equitably. And 11 there's never been any ruling by Judge Lee that the receiver's
12 work -- there has to be a specific nexus between the work
13 performed and a specific credit interestholder.

14           Did I say something that's incorrect? You're shaking 15 your head.

16           MR. DAMASHEK: I'm shaking my head because what 17 you're doing is basically saying -- this receiver on Day One 18 should have been allocating fees by property. And if he had 19 done that, there would be zero fees incurred by this estate --

20           THE COURT: Could have, would have, should have.
21 Right?

22           The point is, I am not going to say to the receiver, 23 you're not getting paid for the fees incurred restoring the 24 rent.

25           MR. DAMASHEK: So, then --

1 THE COURT: So, I think what you should do is go
2 ahead and file the objection -- I'm sure you will -- and deal
3 with it that way.

4 So, the objection as to the rent restoration is
5 overruled.

6 Let's move on to credit bidding. So, if I understand
7 this argument -- actually, I don't understand the argument.

8 Who wants to take that one for the lenders?

9 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, Andrew McClain,
10 M-c-C-l-a-i-n.

11 I can take that one up. And this one dovetails
12 nicely with what we just discussed about security interest for 13 the institutional lenders.

14 The institutional lenders here, as well as the 15 parties here, all had security interest in each one of these 16 properties. And that security interest was --

17 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I can just kind of shorten
18 this. I was involved with the credit bidding. So, let's just 19 fast forward.

20 MR. McCLAIN: And, so, our position here on the 21 credit bidding is that pursuant to the Elliott case, the 22 receiver took adverse action against the institutional
23 lenders. And the Elliott case stands for the proposition that 24 we should not be surcharged for fees that are associated with 25 taking adverse action against our security interest.

1           And the Elliott case also states that in awarding
2 fees, the court should consider the results of the receiver's
3 work. And here, the result is the receiver lost in his 4 challenge in opposition to our request for a credit bid. The 5 court ultimately ordered a credit bid --

6           THE COURT: Let me stop you so that others don't have 7 to argue this point.

8           The receiver doesn't win or lose in this case.
9 You've got to understand that. The receiver is an officer of 10 the court helping the court deal with this mess, untangling
11 the Christmas lights after Christmas is over. The receiver
12 doesn't win or lose.

13           But go on.

14           MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, perhaps win or lose isn't 15 the correct terminology.

16           THE COURT: It's not. Go ahead.

17           MR. McCLAIN: But the case law states if the 18 receiver's taking adverse action against a secured party's 19 interest, then the secured party should not bear the cost of 20 those fees. And our point on credit bidding here, your Honor,
21 is that the receiver was taking adverse action to our security
22 interest; and, so, those fees should not be allocated and 23 surcharged to our properties.

24           THE COURT: And do you think that the receiver was 25 taking a favorable position or protective position of other

1 creditors?

2 MR. McCLAIN: I think that the receiver was opposing
3 the secured parties' interest. And that doesn't benefit
4 anybody because --

5 THE COURT: Really? Doesn't benefit anyone? You can 6 --

7 MR. McCLAIN: Well --

8 THE COURT: -- say that?

9 MR. McCLAIN: -- it doesn't benefit the secured
10 parties who have a secured --

11 THE COURT: So, not --

12 MR. McCLAIN: -- interest in those properties.

13 THE COURT: So, not the entire receiver estate?

14 MR. McCLAIN: Yes, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: So, only looking at you, yourselves, they 16 are against you?

17 MR. McCLAIN: Well, there --

18 THE COURT: So, is that the standard, then?

19 MR. McCLAIN: The standard is -- and it's from the 20 Elliott case -- that secured investors are not liable for the 21 receiver's time spent on activities adverse to them for the 22 benefits -- excuse me, for the activities that benefit the 23 unsecured creditors, which is exactly what happened here.

24 THE COURT: But the holding is only as good as the 25 factual circumstances present in the case, right?

1           And tell me the facts of the Elliot case.

2           MR. McCLAIN: Well, the facts of the Elliott case,
3 there it was a similar case, your Honor, of a Ponzi --

4           THE COURT: How similar?

5           MR. McCLAIN: Well, it was a Ponzi scheme
6 involving --

7           THE COURT: Did it have 116 properties?

8           MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, it had --

9           THE COURT: The answer is no.

10          MR. McCLAIN: It had 2,000 claims filed, your Honor.
11 So --

12          THE COURT: I didn't ask about the claimants.

13          But go on with your facts.

14          MR. McCLAIN: Yes, your Honor.

15          The case did not involve commercial real estate. But 16 the rule from the case applies equally to our case, in that 17 it's an SEC receivership involving a Ponzi scheme where a
18 federal equity receiver was appointed and the court was trying 19 to determine how receiver fees should be allocated and charged 20 against creditors of the estate. And, so, on those 21 principles, the case is extremely analogous to our current 22 case.

23          THE COURT: I do understand that Judge Lee relied on 24 the Elliott case for certain holdings. But I don't see that 25 case being very similar to this case at all. And here's why:

1 In this case, we have 108 separate properties with many
2 different creditors, secured interests -- I'm sorry, those 3 with secured interest.

4 And in the Elliott case, you essentially have someone
5 running a Ponzi scheme accepting money for investments. So,
6 there, as I understand the case, the receiver simply had to 7 liquidate all assets and, then, deal with how to go ahead and 8 distribute the money, depending on which investment vehicles
9 each claimant entered into. That's the way I see that 10 particular case.

11 This case is much more complicated. And I am not 12 going to challenge Judge Lee's ruling on this case that the 13 receiver was necessary to untangle this mess and the 14 receiver's work benefitted everyone. I am not deviating from 15 that ruling.

16 Now, coming back to the credit bidding, let me ask
17 you, so what you're saying is, again, the receiver should eat
18 the fees?

19 MR. McCLAIN: No, your Honor. What we're saying is 20 the fees should not be surcharged to our collateral. So, what 21 we have in --

22 THE COURT: Then it should be charged to, who? The 23 fees should be charged to, who?

24 MR. McCLAIN: To the general operating account of the 25 estate. And, your Honor --

1 THE COURT: So, is that in the response?

2 MR. McCLAIN: Well, I believe --

3 THE COURT: Let's look at Document 1210.

4 MR. McCLAIN: I believe the concept is in the 5 response, your Honor, because --

6 THE COURT: Concept.

7 MR. McCLAIN: -- the --

8 THE COURT: See --

9 MR. McCLAIN: Our objection --

10 THE COURT: -- I'm not that smart.

11 MR. McCLAIN: Our --

12 THE COURT: You need to spell it out for me. I mean, 13 I'm sure that you learned that.

14 So, credit bidding is on Page 15 to Page 16. It
15 spans two paragraphs. You're asking the Court to say to the 16 receiver, you need to eat the fees. That's what you're 17 saying. Why not just admit to it like Mr. Damashek has?

18 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, that is not what we're 19 saying. We're not saying the receiver --

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. McCLAIN: -- should ever be --

22 THE COURT: Where is the operating account argument
23 on Page 15 and Page 16?

24 MR. McCLAIN: The term "operating account" is not 25 mentioned in this paragraph, your Honor. But on Page 16, we

1 state it is inappropriate for the receiver to allocate the 2 credit bid implementation time to all the receivership
3 properties.

4           And the point there is that we have numerous buckets
5 here, your Honor. We have all of the sale proceeds for all
6 100-plus properties that have been sold. Each one of those
7 are an individual bucket. And, then, we have the receiver's
8 general operating account bucket. From Day One, the receiver
9 had been paying his fees out of the general operating account
10 bucket. And back in -- from the outset of this case, we 11 mentioned that this proper -- that the estate is insolvent and 12 the receiver is eventually going to run out of money because 13 all of the individual 100 buckets for the property are subject
14 to security interests.

15           Now the estate at some point did run out of money, 16 which is when the court granted the priming lien as to 17 specific tasks only. But the posture of the case has changed
18 significantly, in that the operating account now has over $2
19 million in it to satisfy the receiver's fees that should be 20 properly allocated to that bucket.

21           THE COURT: But aren't you forgetting Judge Lee's 22 ruling? I think it's Document 1107. Judge Lee adopted the 23 receiver's allocation methodology to allocate the fees and 24 certain expenses to each property. In fact, he adopted the 25 methodology of allocating fees and expenses not otherwise

1 specifically allocated to any property as a percentage of 2 their gross sales price.

3 So, why are you arguing this to me now?

4 MR. McCLAIN: Well, your Honor, we did argue it then,
5 but we're arguing it now because --

6 THE COURT: I know you lost it, right?

7 MR. McCLAIN: -- because the fees are actually --

8 THE COURT: Did you lose that argument?

9 MR. McCLAIN: I'm sorry, your Honor?

10 THE COURT: Did you lose that argument before Judge
11 Lee?

12 MR. McCLAIN: The court granted the receiver's
13 request as to specific allocations. He did not grant a 14 blanket approval of the receiver's fees. And, in fact, in 15 Judge Lee's ruling in Docket 1030, Judge states that, this 16 order is not a declaration that each and every entry on the 17 receiver's submitted schedules actually falls within the two 18 categories of billings described above.

19 And, then, Judge Lee also went on to state that 20 Magistrate Judge Kim, yourself --

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 MR. McCLAIN: -- may will determine --

23 THE COURT: We'll get to --

24 MR. McCLAIN: -- a particular --

25 THE COURT: Correct. But that's classification.

1 It's not dealing with talking about general operating account
2 versus each property.

3 MR. McCLAIN: That's exactly what it's dealing with,
4 your Honor, because if it's not properly allocated to one of 5 the approved --

6 THE COURT: No, no.

7 MR. McCLAIN: -- classifications --

8 THE COURT: If it's not related to a particular
9 expense or fee, it is not to be allocated to the properties.

10 MR. McCLAIN: And --

11 THE COURT: Am I wrong on that account?

12 MR. McCLAIN: You are correct that if it doesn't fall
13 within one of the two approved categories, that it should not 14 be subject to the priming lien that the court granted.

15 Now there are all of these issues that we've pointed 16 out in our response that the allocations are not proper for 17 the various topics and issues that we pointed out in the 18 response brief.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Then let's go back to credit
20 bidding.

21 Who was able to successfully submit a credit bid?

22 MR. McCLAIN: No one, your Honor, because --

23 THE COURT: Why is that?

24 MR. McCLAIN: The process for credit bidding chilled
25 all credit bidding because the issue with the credit

1 bidding --

2 THE COURT: I'm sorry, can I stop you for a second.

3 Are you saying that the financial institutions
4 submitted a higher bid for a particular building than the 5 winning bid?

6 MR. McCLAIN: I'm sorry, I'm not following, your
7 Honor.

8 There were no successful credit bids actually
9 submitted for any of these properties.

10 THE COURT: Any bids submitted?

11 MR. McCLAIN: There were bids submitted but 12 ultimately withdrawn, your Honor. And that's because the way
13 that the credit bid procedure was set up is the risk was so
14 great to the institutional lenders that they could effectively
15 make a loan twice, that the institutional lenders decided not 16 to credit bid because the risk was so great. So, in 17 essence --

18 THE COURT: Well, how come you didn't know about that 19 before you fought this tooth and nail that you should be 20 allowed to submit a credit bid?

21 MR. McCLAIN: We did fight it tooth and nail. And we 22 --

23 THE COURT: Because --

24 MR. McCLAIN: -- requested that the credit --

25 THE COURT: Did you know about the risks or no?

1 MR. McCLAIN: No, because the procedure for credit
2 bidding was instituted after the Court granted our motion to 3 be entitled to credit bid.

4 THE COURT: And did the lenders come in and say, hey,
5 wait a second, this process is not going to work?

6 MR. McCLAIN: Yes, we did, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: What happened?

8 MR. McCLAIN: We were overruled.

9 THE COURT: By?
10 I'm surprised I didn't handle that part.

11 MR. McCLAIN: I don't recall if it was you or Judge
12 Lee. I apologize, your Honor.

13 But we were overruled that we raised this very issue
14 that -- there were two fundamental issues. One, we had to 15 post a letter of credit to credit bid; and, two, there was no
16 prior determination of the amount of our secured lien.

17 So, just conceptually, if we were to credit bid,
18 let's just say, a million dollars on a property because we 19 have a secured lien of $1.5 million, we bid a million dollars
20 based on the assumption that our secured lien is worth 1.5.
21 We're good. We're not going to overbid.

22 Now, the claims process hasn't taken place when we 23 submitted our credit bid. Many years later when the claims
24 process eventually does take place, if there's a determination
25 that we, the secured lender that submitted a million-dollar

1 credit bid, is not, in fact, either secured or is not the
2 senior secured lender, meaning there's another lender in front
3 of us who has a security interest, we have to then pay that 4 lender in front of us whatever their amount of their lien is.
5 And if we're determined to be completely unsecured, then that 6 means we have to pay the full million dollars. So, we've, in 7 essence, loaned $2.5 million on this property.

8 And we raised that issue --

9 THE COURT: Why is that not fair?

10 I remember this now.

11 Why is that not fair? If you're not entitled to the 12 assets, why shouldn't you have to pay?

13 MR. McCLAIN: Because that's not --

14 THE COURT: You submitted the bid to buy the 15 property.

16 MR. McCLAIN: But that's not how credit bidding
17 works. Credit bidding works -- you're determined what your 18 secured lien is before you submit your credit bid.

19 THE COURT: But you weren't --

20 MR. McCLAIN: So, you know --

21 THE COURT: You weren't, I don't know, confident that 22 you had a better lien?

23 MR. McCLAIN: That's a large risk, your Honor. A
24 million-dollar risk.

25 THE COURT: That is a large risk because no one knows

1 who is actually entitled to the money, right? We haven't had

3 MR. McCLAIN: In this process --

4 THE COURT: Correct. We haven't had --

5 MR. McCLAIN: -- that is correct. That is correct.

6 But fundamentally --

7 THE COURT: Let me stop you.

8 But the problem here is that you act as if you own
9 the properties. You act and you take these positions as if 10 you are entitled to the funds, and therefore any time the 11 receiver does anything, it's contrary to your position; and 12 any time the receiver does anything, it's spending money not 13 to your benefit.

14 I don't think it's unreasonable for me to actually 15 take that position. I mean, the lenders already have won this 16 case in your minds. That's the way you have been behaving
17 throughout this entire case. And that's the problem, in my 18 opinion.

19 But coming back to the credit bidding, how is it not 20 related to the sales of the properties?

21 MR. McCLAIN: Well, your Honor, I think the issue on 22 that point is two prongs. First, it goes back to the language
23 and the ruling in Elliott that the receiver's taking an 24 adverse position against a secured lender.

25 And the second prong is I don't think that preparing

1 a credit bid process -- which we were statutorily entitled to 2 -- is part of the process that the court approved to be
3 allocated to these properties. I think that might be an issue
4 that would have been reserved for the claims process to 5 determine if it was one of the properly allocated funds.

6 So, I think it would be premature now to allocate it
7 to the properties if the Court is actually going to approve
8 it.

9 THE COURT: The objections regarding credit bidding
10 are overruled.

11 MR. McCLAIN: Thank you, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: I think the reason -- again, I go back to 13 these competing arguments. They are generated because of the 14 institutional lenders' attitude, perception that they already 15 own these properties and they are simply just caught up in 16 this process, unfairly and unreasonably perhaps. I don't 17 know. But from the receiver's point of view, they -- or, I 18 should say, he -- does what he thinks is best to preserve the 19 assets of the estate.

20 When you are litigating a case, you pay -- I should 21 say the client pays for all the fees generated, whether you
22 lose an argument or win an argument, because everything is 23 done for the benefit of the client. I don't think that's any 24 different for the receiver. The receiver doesn't win or lose
25 in this case. The receiver is simply trying to help the court

1 untangle the mess. And the receiver makes certain decisions
2 he believes are for the benefit of the estate. The receiver
3 does not fight in favor of a specific claimant or 4 institutional lender.

5           So, for those reasons, I believe that the credit
6 bidding -- which the institutional lenders fought for, got.
7 And the receiver had to expend fees, time and energy setting
8 it up in order to follow the orders of the court. And they 9 should be paid from the property allocated -- I'm sorry, the 10 fees allocated to the properties.

11           MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor --

12           THE COURT: So, your objections are overruled.

13           MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor --

14           THE COURT: You may make a record if you wish.

15           MR. McCLAIN: May I just respond to one --

16           THE COURT: You may make a record if you wish.

17           MR. McCLAIN: The concept that the institutional
18 lenders are operating as if we own the property, I
19 respectfully disagree with that. We are operating within the 20 confines of secured transaction laws. And as a party that has 21 a security interest in the property, we're entitled to certain 22 rights under the laws. And that has been the principle that 23 we've been enforcing and operating under throughout this 24 entire case.

25           It started with the rent restoration issue. We

1 asserted our security interest. And, again, here now, we're 2 operating on the basis that we have a security interest in 3 these proceeds and in the collateral. And there's certain 4 rights and benefits we have as secured parties, and that's the 5 principle that we're operating under.

6 THE COURT: Thank you.

7 So, then let's go to Objection No. 7, title
8 examination. So, you know, it's something that I'm personally
9 familiar with, having purchased properties in the past.
10 Everything comes out of the sales proceeds. No one has to 11 write a check to anyone else. When you go to the closing,
12 they do all the paperwork. All the columns are lined up, and 13 payment is made and you walk away with one check for you or 14 you pay money to another person. So, I get that.

15 But the receiver's argument, if I'm understanding
16 this correctly -- help me out if I got this wrong -- this was 17 such a complicated matter. The receiver had to ensure there
18 wasn't going to be any blowback, there wasn't going to be any 19 subsequent litigation from not having done the examination
20 more carefully.

21 Why is that so wrong?

22 Mr. Damashek --

23 MR. DAMASHEK: If you're asking --

24 THE COURT: -- why is that so wrong?

25 Answer the question first and I'll let you say

1 whatever you want to say.

2 MR. DAMASHEK: Thank you, Judge. I am prepared to 3 respond to that.

4 THE COURT: Why is that so wrong?

5 MR. DAMASHEK: The reason why you pay the title
6 insurance premium at closing is that the title insurance
7 company accepts responsibility for giving you clear title and 8 insuring that. And, so, that there is no reason for the 9 receiver to be essentially doing the title insurance company's 10 job.

11 Now, in this case, the receiver's attorney was also a
12 title insurance agent and received a share of the title
13 insurance premium, which was credited against the receiver's
14 fees. Absolutely appropriate.

15 The objection is that you go to a title insurance
16 company, you pay the title insurance premium, and that is the 17 expense that the property should get charged with. And to say
18 that the receiver needs to spend additional time to backstop
19 the title company or do something else, to me doesn't make 20 sense as a --

21 THE COURT: Oh, really?

22 MR. DAMASHEK: -- as a transactional attorney.

23 THE COURT: What would have happened if your title
24 insurance companies and the lenders actually did some due 25 diligence with respect to the Cohens? Do you think they would

1 be here? I mean, come on. You don't think that a little bit
2 of digging is not warranted under these circumstances?

3 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, I think the two circumstances
4 you described are totally dissimilar. I represent somebody -- 5 another creditor -- who made a purchase-money mortgage loan,
6 gave the Cohens the money to buy the property. They got a
7 title insurance policy that insured their mortgage. Nothing
8 wrong there. They gave value; a property came into this 9 estate. So, I don't think we can look at all the -- what the 10 lenders did.

11 What we're doing here is looking at whether you can 12 surcharge a secured creditor's property, whether it's my -- me
13 being the secured creditor, whether it's some individual 14 investors being a secured creditor, with something other than 15 the title insurance premium.

16 THE COURT: So, there's a more fundamental question,
17 though. Judge Lee approved these fees, no?

18 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge --

19 THE COURT: Why didn't you argue that these were 20 extraneous fees, unnecessary fees?

21 MR. DAMASHEK: The --

22 THE COURT: Did you argue that?

23 MR. DAMASHEK: I did not argue that, but that's 24 the --

25 THE COURT: Why not? I mean, you're arguing it now,

1 aren't you?

2 MR. DAMASHEK: What I'm arguing today is whether you
3 can surcharge a secured creditor's collateral with this. And 4 I think that's the whole reason why we're here. When --

5 THE COURT: Who else can they charge? Don't say
6 operating account.

7 MR. DAMASHEK: Well --

8 THE COURT: Who else can you charge?

9 MR. DAMASHEK: I have to say the operating account,
10 Judge. And the reason I have to say the operating account, 11 this motion deals with -- the only question in this motion is,
12 can you surcharge my collateral?

13 You are correct that Judge Lee approved fee
14 petitions. And, then, the question referred to this Court is 15 whether you can surcharge my collateral for them. If you 16 can't surcharge my collateral, then the fees have been 17 approved and they should be paid out of another source, just 18 not out of my collateral. And the only other source is the 19 operating account.

20 THE COURT: But if the work is done for the property,
21 Mr. Rachlis, the title examination is done for the property
22 being sold.

23 MR. RACHLIS: Yes, it is.

24 THE COURT: So, why should it be charged to somebody
25 else? I don't understand.

1 MR. DAMASHEK: Because my collateral is also being 2 surcharged with the title insurance premium, and that is the 3 appropriate charge because that is what a buyer of the 4 property wants. The buyer wants a title insurance product.
5 And that title insurance product, he pays an insurance
6 premium. That comes off the sales price; reduces my 7 collateral value. But I don't think I should be charged in 8 excess of that.

9 THE COURT: I understand the argument. I disagree.
10 I think the receiver's making a valid point under the 11 circumstances of this case. Further examination was warranted
12 in order to make sure that the sales go through properly, and 13 that no one else is going to be subsequently in trouble for 14 something that was perhaps not addressed. The objection is 15 overruled.

16 So, let me go to claim adjudication, Group 1
17 properties.

18 Who is in charge of BC57?

19 MR. NATARELLI: Brett Natarelli, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 Help me out here. You don't want to be charged with 22 fees related to actual adjudication? Is that what you're 23 saying?

24 MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, there's water under the 25 bridge on this one in the sense that the Court has previously

1 held that we would evaluate the extent to which the properties
2 were benefitted by the adjudication process at the end. And,
3 so, we were using this category for that. So, there's no
4 dispute that that category should exist, and the dispute is 5 just about what falls into it.

6 The receiver argues we should decide that now, but I
7 think the logic of earlier days still prevails. Whether the 8 properties are benefitted by the litigation involving Group 1
9 is still to be determined.

10 Your Honor may recall in one of the settlement
11 discussions we had -- and I'm not going to go into the details
12 of it. But there were, I think, seven properties at issue.
13 And on two of them, we said, let's see how Group 1 shakes out,
14 but on the other five we had a full answer. And that's 15 because Group 1 is not going to answer all the questions. So,
16 whether Group 1 litigation benefits all of the properties is 17 something we don't know yet and can be --

18 THE COURT: Maybe my question was bad. Let me try to 19 reframe the question.

20 I don't know which institutional lender or lenders --
21 I've got to think that it's BC57 because Group 1 properties
22 were referred to in the response. Essentially, the lender or 23 lenders say that the receiver should not allocate fees related 24 to discovery, filing a framing report, making recommendations
25 to the Court.

1           These fees have been generated already, Mr. Rachlis?

2           MR. RACHLIS: There have been fees that have been --
3           yes, they have been. And approved by the court, as well, yes.

4           THE COURT: So, as I understand the response, the 5           lender or lenders are saying, hey, those fees should not be 6           allocated to these properties.

7           MR. RACHLIS: They're not --

8           THE COURT: Hold on. I'm asking Mr. Natarelli.

9           MR. RACHLIS: I'm sorry.

10          MR. NATARELLI: Yes, our position is those fees
11          should not be allocated to the properties at this time. They 12          are adjudication related. They may fall into Category 2 of 13          the order, Docket 1030, establishing the priming lien
14          categories. But whether they do or not cannot be known at 15          this time.

16          THE COURT: Essentially, what you're saying is that 17          these fees are not related to the second category approved by 18          Judge Lee: Implementation and management of an orderly
19          summary claim priority adjudication process. Essentially 20          setting up the process -- you can get paid -- but not the 21          actual adjudication work.

22          Am I understanding that correctly?

23          MR. NATARELLI: They fit the category, your Honor, 24          but whether they should be charged to the properties now or 25          evaluated later was reserved by Docket 1030. That was part of

1 the evaluation process. Because the categories are guides.
2 So, it's not that just because it falls into the category,
3 it's automatically able to be surcharged. It's that those are 4 categories likely to involve a benefit to the properties. And 5 in some cases, that's obvious now that there's a benefit or 6 it's obvious there's not a benefit. This is a case where it's 7 not clear yet if the properties will benefit from that 8 process.

9 THE COURT: So, these fees do fall within the second
10 category. What you're saying is that Judge Lee exempted them
11 from the second category.

12 MR. NATARELLI: Well, I think --

13 THE COURT: Or at least they should not be paid now?

14 MR. NATARELLI: He exempted the concept that there
15 might be fees that can't be paid now because the benefit can't 16 yet be evaluated. We're saying this fits that concept.

17 THE COURT: Let me take a look at 1030.

18 Mr. Rachlis?

19 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

20 THE COURT: So, if I'm understanding Mr. Natarelli's
21 argument correctly, claim adjudication fees fall within the 22 second category already approved by Judge Lee, but Judge Lee
23 said don't -- you can't get paid for those fees just yet.

24 MR. RACHLIS: I don't think that the interpretation
25 that's being advanced is the correct interpretation. And I

1 actually feel very comfortable saying that because Judge Shah
2 just, in Docket No. 1366, rejected pretty much that exact
3 argu- -- or something akin to that argument, where the court
4 notes on Page 2, in dealing again with this allocation
5 questions and the question -- on Group 1 fees associated that
6 were being allocated, the court says, quote: The Court
7 previously rejected as too narrow the objection that the 8 requested fees do not relate to property-related activities
9 and continues to overrule that objection.

10 He goes on to basically -- and as part of the 11 approval of the 17th fee application and the allocations,
12 there was Group 1 work allocated within that and the court
13 correctly allowed that allocation to occur. I only note that.
14 I know the 17th application is unique from the applications
15 before your Honor, which is -- we have 1 through 16 in front
16 of you.

17 But the point is, is that Group 1 activities --
18 including the framing report, the discovery, the work
19 associated with making sure all claimants were participating 20 when they submitted their discovery, the other questions and 21 issues, and going ahead and making recommendations on the 22 claims -- are absolutely part of the claims process. And it
23 would be totally inconsistent to have on the one hand that 24 work be approved, which Judge Lee has done, to somehow say,
25 well, that's now carved out because there's a question about

1 the benefit.

2 The only issue, I think, that may --

3 THE COURT: Let me just stop you for a second because 4 in order for me to understand what you're saying, I guess I
5 need to go back to Mr. Natarelli because I'm confused now.

6 So, tell me, when you say "discovery," what do you
7 mean by that? What kind of work is discovery work?

8 MR. NATARELLI: Taking discovery from claimants who 9 are competing over the priority of their claims.

10 What Mr. Rachlis said is contradicted by the order of 11 Docket 1030. It's a very quick read. It's Footnote 7. It's 12 Page 14: The receiver will also be participating in the claim
13 priority adjudications by taking discovery, filing a framing
14 report, and making recommendations to the Court, which may 15 assist the to-be-determined first-priority secured creditor
16 defeating claims. But the receiver rightfully acknowledges 17 that whether such activities conferred a benefit on the 18 victorious creditor cannot be determined until the conclusion
19 --

20 THE COURT: See --

21 MR. NATARELLI: -- of the claims process.

22 That's all we're saying, is what's --

23 THE COURT: The reason --

24 MR. NATARELLI: -- written right there.

25 THE COURT: -- we have this confusion is because

1 you're on two different pages. When you talk about discovery,
2 the definition of discovery becomes important. The way you
3 described discovery just now, it's work performed by the 4 receiver to collect information from the claimants, no?

5 MR. NATARELLI: Well, no. I think in this case there
6 are at least two distinct categories. There's just gathering
7 the claims, getting the claim forms, contacting the claimants,
8 and in most cases there is no further discovery with the 9 claimants. In some cases where there's a litigation over a
10 priority dispute, there's an additional discovery process
11 that's beyond just the claim form --

12 THE COURT: But who --

13 MR. NATARELLI: -- actually asking them questions
14 about what their investment is and where it comes from and how 15 it's backed up.

16 THE COURT: So, when you say "discovery" in your 17 response, what do you mean specifically? Give me an example
18 of work performed.

19 MR. NATARELLI: In most cases there has not been 20 discovery. But it's the Group 1 claimants, including BC57.
21 There was discovery. So, as to those properties, there were 22 additional things done besides just listing the claims.
23 That's what we meant.

24 THE COURT: I know, but you're saying fees already 25 incurred, billed and allocated connected to discovery should

1 not be allocated, right? So, this is work already performed.

2 So, what discovery are you talking about?

3 MR. NATARELLI: The work is performed. The fees are 4 approved. All we are saying, Judge, is what it says in 5 Footnote 7, that until the process is over, until the 6 conclusion of the process, we can't determine whether or not 7 that work benefits the properties or not.

8 THE COURT: Unless it's just simply related to the 9 claims process, which is Category 2 approved by Judge Lee, no?

10 MR. NATARELLI: Well, Judge Lee recognizes it's 11 within Category 2. He's just saying we can't, until the 12 conclusion of the process, determine whether that's properly
13 allocated or not.

14 THE COURT: Arguably, you can say that about any fee
15 generated, no? Especially the institutional lenders. I mean,
16 that's what we've been arguing all day long, right? I mean,
17 not all day long, but for the past hour, right?

18 MR. NATARELLI: I think you could make arguments,
19 Judge. But this one has already been stated by the court.

20 THE COURT: Again, the reason for this hearing was 21 for me to better understand your argument. You say in your 22 response, hey, fees associated with discovery, filing a
23 framing report, making recommendations should be rejected.

24 MR. NATARELLI: They should be reserved for ruling
25 until the conclusion of the process --

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. NATARELLI: -- in accordance with the Court's --

3 THE COURT: I understand.

4 MR. NATARELLI: -- statement in Footnote 7.

5 THE COURT: I understand. But what do you mean by 6 discovery? What do you mean by framing report?

7 MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, I'm new to the case, but 8 I do have some understanding --

9 THE COURT: Maybe Mr. Rachlis can help me out here.
10 What do they mean when they say "discovery"?

11 MR. RACHLIS: Certainly.

12 Our understanding of where they're coming from,
13 whether it be the framing report and discovery, all related to 14 claims administration. It was not discovery --

15 THE COURT: Well, explain. What do you mean by --

16 MR. RACHLIS: Sure.

17 Framing report, which was filed -- and I'm sorry, I 18 don't have the docket number for that, but we can get that for 19 you when we're on break.

20 So, the framing report sets forth basically who the 21 claimants are, sets forth basically the outline of the 22 disputes, and basically triggered the process to start Group
23 1. That's what the framing report did, essentially. The 24 properties --

25 THE COURT: So, you're saying that these are

1 preliminary steps that the receiver took in order to tee up
2 Group 1 properties' adjudication process?

3 MR. RACHLIS: That's absolutely correct.

4 THE COURT: So, what do you think the lenders mean
5 when they say "discovery"?

6 MR. RACHLIS: Discovery? I think that they are 7 confusing the work that was done to get information about 8 claims with the avoidance -- there's the issue about the 9 receiver's ability to bring an avoidance action, which would 10 basically challenge the validity of the secured interest of 11 a -- of somebody who is claiming a secured interest. So, it
12 could be institutional lenders here who --

13 THE COURT: I'm sorry, I'm still not getting --

14 MR. RACHLIS: I apologize.

15 THE COURT: So, just help me out. Step by step,
16 discovery. Somebody files a claim?

17 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

18 THE COURT: Online?

19 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

20 THE COURT: Here are my supporting documents.

21 MR. RACHLIS: Yeah.

22 THE COURT: Then you do, what?

23 MR. RACHLIS: There were two elements to discovery in 24 the case regarding the claims process. There was actually
25 written discovery that was submitted that had been worked out

1 in advance that went to all claimants that were exchanged
2 between these claimants. And, then, it was the receiver's
3 responsibility to gather that information and make sure
4 everyone received it, had it in hand.

5 Then following written discovery, which was this kind
6 of form that was approved by Judge Lee, there was oral 7 discovery taken of certain claimants where --

8 THE COURT: For what reason?

9 MR. RACHLIS: Well, it could -- well, in part, there
10 was -- the institutional lenders were looking to challenge
11 some of the claimants' ability to make their claims, whether 12 they had received payments, you know, or had been fully -- 13 whether they had fully received payments, whether their own
14 secured interest claims were valid, and things of that nature.
15 So, you had that going on. And there were questions that 16 could be asked by the receiver or anyone else, including the 17 SEC or whatnot, in order to gather information about the 18 claim.

19 THE COURT: So, you're making these inquiries --

20 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

21 THE COURT: -- on behalf of those who are challenging
22 the claims?

23 MR. RACHLIS: These aren't really inquiries as much
24 as questions that could be asked about the claims that were 25 submitted, as well as their discovery responses, to better

1 understand what their claims are and to see whether -- and to 2 check their validity, to check the numbers that they are 3 given, and things of that nature.

4 So, the role of the receiver there -- there was 5 participation by receiver and receiver's counsel, but that was 6 really part of the claims administration process.

7 Now, there was a separate and ongoing review
8 associated with avoidance claims. In other words, a separate 9 claim that could be brought by the receiver, which I think is 10 the discovery that they -- and the activities that --

11 THE COURT: What's the purpose of that discovery,
12 then?

13 MR. RACHLIS: That would be to determine whether or 14 not a certain claim by an institutional lender or somebody
15 could -- should be challenged as being valid and then being 16 subordinated to either an unsecured level --

17 THE COURT: Who would make that decision?

18 MR. RACHLIS: The court. The court would make that 19 decision.

20 THE COURT: But then what are you providing to the 21 court?

22 MR. RACHLIS: Recommendation on the avoidance issue,
23 which actually did occur in Group 1 separately. We filed a 24 separate document. And that time associated with the 25 avoidance issue was not -- is not included in any of the

1 allocations that's here. That's what I think the critical
2 point. We excluded informa- -- work that was being done on 3 activity outside of claims administration -- traditional 4 claims administration.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Let me stop you.

6 Mr. Natarelli, do you want to respond to that?
7 Anything incorrect that Mr. Rachlis said about what he thinks
8 you mean by discovery, what he thinks you mean by framing
9 report?

10 MR. NATARELLI: That's what we mean. And that's what 11 I think the court meant, as well. And what the court was 12 getting at is that if the receiver's work helped figure out
13 who the victorious secured creditor should be, that secured
14 creditor is going to obtain the money; and, in that case, the 15 receiver benefitted the property, the victorious creditor, and 16 a surcharge would be appropriate.

17 THE COURT: But --

18 MR. NATARELLI: But if the receiver's work didn't do
19 that, if the receiver's work was a frolic and detour, if it
20 didn't help the court get to who the right creditor secured
21 should be, then it's not subject to a surcharge. And it's not 22 that the receiver eats it; it's that the estate bears the 23 expense. The unsecured creditors bear the expense.

24 THE COURT: How can that work not benefit the process
25 itself?

1           You have to first find the claimants in order to have
2 a claims adjudication process. In other words, we need to 3 find out who the participants are. And in the process of 4 identifying the claims or claimants, the receiver sees 5 something funny about a sub-group of these claimants and the 6 receiver says to the court, hey, by the way, you should pay
7 attention to these claimants because we think their claims are 8 bogus.

9           How is that not preliminary steps to the actual 10 adjudication process?

11           MR. NATARELLI: Under that set of facts, I think the 12 receiver would have a good argument that that benefitted the 13 property because it defeated unsecured claims and it helped 14 the Court identify who the right secured party is.

15           THE COURT: But I guess the point that Mr. Rachlis is 16 making is that these steps were taken for the purpose of 17 getting the adjudication process ready, no?

18           MR. NATARELLI: They may have been, but the court has 19 not ordered a priming lien as to all of the steps that were 20 necessary to get to an adjudication process. It's ordered a 21 priming lien only as to the adjudication process itself, and 22 has said that we can't determine who -- whether the properties
23 were benefitted or not until the conclusion of the claims
24 process.

25           THE COURT: No, I hear what you're saying. But how

1 could these preliminary steps not help the ultimate
2 adjudication process? I don't see how it can't.

3 MR. NATARELLI: Well, so, for example, the secured
4 creditors, generally speaking, are here. They're present.
5 They were present from Day One. They didn't need to be 6 notified. They didn't need to be found or searched for. If 7 the receiver's activities are in the nature of searching for 8 and finding unsecured claims that have not been asserted and 9 supporting those claims and arguing against the secured
10 lenders in that process, that would not benefit the secured --

11 THE COURT: Yeah, but --

12 MR. NATARELLI: -- creditor, whoever it is.

13 THE COURT: Yeah, but the thing is the Court needs to 14 make sure that the process is fair, right? In other words,
15 the Court simply can't say, well, no one really stepped up, so
16 I'm just going to go ahead and give all the money to those 17 financial institutions which have been actually participating 18 actively ever since the filing of this case; I'm not going to 19 care about those claimants who never bothered to come to court
20 or never bothered to do anything.

21 That wouldn't be fair to others, right? I mean, it's 22 up to the receiver to figure out, okay, who may have an 23 interest in these properties and who may be able to file
24 claims.

25 In other words, in order for the court to actually

1 sign off -- yes, I agree, the process is fair; we've done what 2 we could and the institutional lenders are right; they are 3 entitled to the funds -- only then can the court actually 4 enter an order distributing those funds. I mean, that's the 5 orderly way of doing things, right?

6 MR. NATARELLI: That's right. The receiver's
7 activities doing that are proper. The receiver's fees for 8 doing those activities have been approved by the court. The 9 only question that's before the Court today is whether the 10 receiver's entitled --

11 THE COURT: Yeah.

12 MR. NATARELLI: -- to a priming and surcharging lien
13 for that activity, as opposed to drawing from the estate
14 itself.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, the thing is these steps have been 16 approved. Judge Lee says if they fall within the 17 implementation and management of an orderly summary claim-
18 priority adjudication process, then they need to be paid now
19 rather than later.

20 Mr. Damashek?

21 MR. DAMASHEK: If I may, Judge, could I suggest that 22 it might be beneficial for us to take a short break at this 23 time?

24 THE COURT: Well, I want to finish up this particular 25 objection.

1 MR. DAMASHEK: The only --

2 THE COURT: Go ahead.

3 MR. DAMASHEK: -- reason I'm suggesting it is I know
4 Mr. Natarelli is new to this, but the Group 1 claimants --

5 THE COURT: Mr. Natarelli is a very capable person.
6 I've talked with him many times about this case.

7 MR. DAMASHEK: The reason I'm saying --

8 THE COURT: Do you have something to say?

9 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: Say it.

11 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes, sir.

12 I think the distinction is between the initial intake
13 of claims and the adjudication of the Group 1 claims process.
14 The receiver established a claims process, and that's one 15 step. Then Group 1 was the first claim to be adjudicated in 16 that claim process. And during the course of that 17 adjudication, in which I was not involved because I'm not in 18 Group 1, there would have been discovery, as we've talked 19 about. There would have been briefing. There would have been 20 various claims asserted.

21 But the receiver, I believe, did make a
22 recommendation to the court in that process. And I believe 23 that recommendation was that priority should be given to the 24 unsecured creditors. And if the court does not agree with 25 that and, instead, grants priority to the institutional

1 lenders, then the receiver essentially has made the wrong
2 recommendation or made one that certainly did not benefit the 3 secured creditor.

4 Now, I'm assuming these facts --

5 THE COURT: Let me stop you because we're short on 6 time.

7 Mr. Rachlis --

8 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

9 THE COURT: -- about the recommendation, can you
10 comment on that?

11 MR. RACHLIS: Yes. There were two recommendations
12 made. And the whole point of having a receiver is to review
13 claims and to go ahead and then make recommendation to the 14 court as to the validity and amount of claims.

15 And we did that. We did exactly that at the end of 16 the Group 1 process. We made a recommendation on the amount
17 that should be -- the court should consider -- the amount 18 claimed by a claimant, the amount that we believe was 19 appropriate, and whether it was secured or unsecured. So,
20 there's a pleading and filing associated with that.

21 Separately from that -- and, again, going to a
22 separate process, which is not part of these allocated fees --
23 there was -- the court asked us whether or not, within a time
24 frame, whether there was going to -- whether we were claiming 25 there should be an avoidance action or an avoidance process

1 brought against one of the claimants. And we did that 2 separately.

3 THE COURT: Well, I really want to just hear your
4 response to Mr. Damashek's argument, hey, wait a second, you
5 recommended to the court that we should lose. Why should we 6 be stuck with the bill if we win this case?

7 MR. RACHLIS: But he said a couple of things. He 8 said that we made a recommendation that unsecured creditors
9 should be -- should get the -- should be favored, right, as 10 first prior- -- first-secured priority. But that's not true.
11 We made a recommendation that there were other parties that 12 claimed secured interest. And we valued -- we took what their 13 amounts were, and I believe we also included group -- BC57 in 14 that --

15 THE COURT: I'm sorry, I can't hear you.

16 MR. RACHLIS: I'm sorry.

17 Every claimant who submitted a claim, we made a 18 recommendation as to the amount that they would be -- the 19 proper amount, if the court rules one way or another on who's 20 first secured, should be awarded. That was the -- that is the 21 recommendation that was made.

22 We made a separate filing that one of the claimants,
23 BC57, has -- there should be -- their claim is -- they -- they 24 knew -- they were on notice of certain issues associated with 25 the loan being improper, and therefore there was -- the Court

1 could avoid or subordinate their claimed secured status to an
2 unsecured status. That's a separate recommendation.

3           So, what was expressed to your Honor was incomplete
4 and inaccurate. There was one filing that says this is the 5 amount that is being sought by every secured -- every alleged 6 secured claimant; this is the amount we believe is appropriate
7 after the investigation that was being done, the work that we
8 had done. And that's for every single one of the Group 1
9 claimants. That is the recommendation that we made to the 10 court as to the claims that were there.

11           A separate filing was made saying that the -- that 12 BC57's claim to a security should be avoided. We are not 13 seeking recovery at this point or allocations associated with 14 that filing. So, what's been stated is not really accurate 15 because it's not part of this claim, it's not part of the 16 allocation, and it excludes a recommendation that was being 17 made because there were two of them.

18           THE COURT: So, what you're saying is you're actually
19 agreeing with Mr. Damashek that you shouldn't be paid for a 20 recommendation made to the court now; you should wait to see
21 how the adjudication process --

22           MR. RACHLIS: Not at all. We're saying that as to 23 all the work that was done associated with non-avoidance work,
24 that is absolutely proper. And Judge Shah agrees with that.

25           It's, again, 1366. Specifically on Group 1, he says

1 the following: The Group 1 issues for which the receiver
2 seeks payments in this application are compensable as claims
3 administration. The Court's forthcoming ruling on the 4 priority dispute in Group 1 bucket is no -- is not reason to 5 delay payment --

6 THE COURT: But what kind of work --

7 MR. RACHLIS: -- for the past --

8 THE COURT: -- did you perform? What work is he 9 referring to?

10 MR. RACHLIS: In the last quarter, perhaps Ms. Wine
11 can advise the Court specifically.

12 MS. WINE: Yes, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Ms. Wine?

14 MS. WINE: In the 17th fee application, the work
15 related to Group 1 had to do with some late-submitted claims 16 and a couple claimants came to the receiver with claims that 17 hadn't been submitted by the deadline. There was some 18 briefing on that.

19 THE COURT: Any recommendations made?

20 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

21 MS. WINE: The recommenda- --

22 THE COURT: Against the interest of BC57?

23 MR. RACHLIS: No. They were basically made that --
24 as to one claim -- one claimant, I believe it was Martinez, it
25 was a late claim that was filed. The court allowed that claim

1 to come in. We reviewed the claim and we made -- we noted how
2 much the claim was alleged to be made for by the -- by Mr.
3 Martinez or Martinez family, how much we believed was 4 appropriate to consider for that claim, and whether or not it
5 was secured or unsecured or -- you know, at least by 6 recommendation of the -- from the receiver.

7 So, that was the -- it was basically a supplement.
8 It amended our prior filing.

9 THE COURT: So, that particular application didn't 10 have any work performed in terms of making recommendations to 11 the court?

12 MR. RACHLIS: It made a recommendation -- it advised
13 the court of how much we thought the claim, you know --

14 THE COURT: Well --

15 MR. RACHLIS: I mean, so it did have some 16 recommendations.

17 THE COURT: We're talking about recommendation that a
18 certain institutional lender should not have priority over 19 other claimants.

20 MR. RACHLIS: No. The prior- -- we made a separate 21 filing that had that.

22 THE COURT: So, what you're saying is that separate 23 filing dealing with that particular issue is not part of this 24 particular motion for allocation?

25 MR. RACHLIS: Exactly, your Honor. Yes.

1 THE COURT: So, which line are you looking at that
2 you think that should not be paid now, Mr. Natarelli or Mr.
3 Damashek?

4 MR. NATARELLI: I never raised anything about
5 avoidance. We were talking about specifically about Group 1
6 litigation fees that have to do with adjudication of the 7 claims.

8 And the fact that the litigation occurred -- let's
9 say hypothetically that the lenders lose. In that case,
10 another secured creditor would win. And in that case, the 11 receiver would have benefitted that secured creditor, in which 12 case the receiver should be paid for that work and should get 13 a priming lien because it benefitted the secured creditor who 14 was victorious.

15 But if the Court agrees with us that we were the 16 primary secured lender and all the receiver did was try to 17 defeat that argument and lost, then the receiver did not 18 benefit --

19 THE COURT: Yeah, see --

20 MR. NATARELLI: -- us as the secured creditor.

21 THE COURT: -- I think again --

22 MR. NATARELLI: And we don't know yet how that's 23 going to turn out.

24 THE COURT: I think perception or perspective is the 25 reason for this issue. From the receiver's point of view, the

1 objective is to implement a system so that the court can 2 adjudicate. It doesn't matter to the receiver who is the 3 ultimate winner and who is the loser, right?

4 So, when you say "benefit," you're talking about
5 personal benefit to the institution.

6 MR. NATARELLI: No, your Honor. I'm talking about 7 benefit to the category of whoever the victorious secured
8 creditor is. And --

9 THE COURT: Exactly.

10 MR. NATARELLI: -- as to Group 1, that may not be us.

11 THE COURT: Exactly.

12 But you're saying the benefit can only be conferred
13 to the winning litigant.

14 MR. NATARELLI: No, I'm saying --

15 THE COURT: And that is not the objective of the 16 administration process.

17 MR. NATARELLI: No, I'm saying --

18 THE COURT: At least not from the receiver's point of 19 view.

20 MR. NATARELLI: I'm saying the receiver's only 21 entitled to a priming lien to the extent his work got us to 22 the victorious creditor and --

23 THE COURT: Now I understand what you're saying.

24 The objection noted as No. 9 is overruled because the 25 work is to benefit this process, not to benefit any particular

1 individual.

2           And I did also review the footnote. But under the 3 circumstances of this case, what the parties have argued
4 today, the objective isn't for the receiver to pick a winner.
5 It's simply to implement a system, collect information
6 necessary, do what the receiver needs to do so that the court
7 can, in fact, follow that particular system.

8           It's 3:20. We'll take a break until 3:30.

9           Thank you.

10          (Brief recess.)

11          THE COURT: We're back on the record.

12          So, we were just talking about Objection No. 9, claim
13 adjudication. I think there's a related objection. I think
14 that's No. 3, claims administration.

15          If I am understanding the argument correctly here,
16 lenders object that general claims administration should not 17 be paid at this time.

18          MR. NATARELLI: Should not be allocated, your Honor,
19 as a surcharge to the properties.

20          THE COURT: Let me ask this question of the receiver:
21 Was there ever any kind of direction from the court as to this
22 operating account?

23          MR. RACHLIS: I don't believe there was direction
24 about it. You know, part of -- some of the materials -- I'm 25 talking about this restoration issue. We certainly were

1 providing accounting best we could, and the court asked us to 2 do so. And we would provide that. I don't recall how often,
3 but there were accounting reports that were being distributed
4 and things of that nature. And, of course, your Honor knows
5 that there are status reports and things of that nature that 6 discuss the operating account.

7 But there was no directive given that I can recall.
8 And I'm sorry if I may not understand --

9 THE COURT: No, no. Let's use an example. And I
10 just picked out some line numbers.

11 Exhibit C, this is an Excel spreadsheet. This is an 12 exhibit to lenders' response, which, again, is Document No.
13 1210. I was provided with an Excel spreadsheet of the exhibit
14 so that I'm not working with PDF. So, the Excel spreadsheet
15 has the line numbers on the left-hand side.

16 So, if I go to Line No. 60, here the receiver says in 17 August -- I'm sorry, on August 28, 2018, work performed
18 related to claims administration and objections.

19 Am I reading that correctly?

20 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

21 MR. NATARELLI: Yes.

22 THE COURT: So, then it goes on to say: Reviewed
23 documentation received to date for debt service details.

24 So, that's Line 60. So, let me -- let's use this 25 example. I don't know who wants to address the Court. Tell

1 me what is wrong with this and why this particular line number
2 should not be allocated to whichever account this is allocated 3 to.

4 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, Ron Damashek. And if I may 5 briefly, to the extent I misspoke earlier and said unsecured
6 creditors with respect to Group 1, I did mean the individual
7 investors versus the institutional lenders. And to the extent
8 I said unsecured creditors, I just misspoke.

9 THE COURT: Thank you.

10 Line 60.

11 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes. Line 60, there really are two 12 different components to the objection. The first component to 13 the objection is that as part of the overall receivership
14 process, the receiver is going to take in claims from all
15 creditors out there. There may be some secured, maybe
16 unsecured, et cetera. And my understanding of Judge Lee's
17 ruling was focused on the lien priority adjudication process.
18 So, to the extent that the receiver is just intaking claims
19 like any receiver should, that is not something that gets 20 surcharged to anybody's collateral.

21 The part that gets surcharged is the claims process,
22 claims adjudication process, as distinct from the gathering of 23 information. That's Part One.

24 The second part here is if you look at this entry, it
25 says, for debt service details. There was no debt service

1 paid in this case. No funds were paid to any secured
2 creditor, whether institutional or individual investors --

3 THE COURT: I'm sorry, can you just tell me about
4 that? Can you rephrase that again?

5 MR. DAMASHEK: Okay.

6 THE COURT: The debt service.

7 MR. DAMASHEK: Right. So --

8 THE COURT: You said something that there was no
9 something.

10 MR. DAMASHEK: Correct.

11 So, the concept of debt service is if I have a loan
12 on my property and it's got a -- secured by a mortgage, I'm 13 supposed to get paid a thousand dollars a month as the 14 mortgageholder. That's debt service.

15 In this case, there was no debt service ever paid.
16 There was never a process whereby the receiver collected money
17 and paid the institutional lenders or the individual lenders
18 as mortgageholders. So, that's got nothing to do with the 19 claims resolution process. Maybe it's understanding what's 20 out there. But it's not claims dispute resolution, which is 21 what should be permitted under the court's order.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 Mr. Rachlis, can we hear your side regarding Line No.
24 60?

25 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

1 THE COURT: Can you --

2 MR. RACHLIS: I'm sorry, I'll speak into the 3 microphone. I'm sorry. I was just looking back at the date.

4 So, in August of 2018, the receivership was just 5 being established and there were various filings that were 6 being made by claimants already, right, including most of them
7 from the start were from the same parties who are here today.
8 And that information that was being provided would be 9 necessary to understand from the get-go and review, which 10 would be a normal part of handling claims. The fact that 11 those -- there was -- some of that information provided
12 included information about debt service, as well as other 13 information that was being looked at, would, of course, not be 14 an unnatural part of what the receiver would be doing as 15 handling a claim because if there was money to pay off debt
16 service or things of that nature, one would want to know what 17 the obligations were.

18 But as a more global and general matter, what was 19 going on at that time and as part of that type of entry
20 involved looking at a submission by a claimant as to what 21 their claim would be -- as to what some of the features of 22 what their claims are, which would include amounts owed or 23 debt service or things of that nature.

24 So, that is -- when we look back here at that entry
25 at that time, that is certainly, I would say: One, not

1 unusual; two, standard type of analysis that you would look at 2 for purposes of understanding a claim. And that was submitted
3 early on. Not the full claim itself, but information about a
4 claimant associated with their claim.

5 THE COURT: So, you're not saying that you were 6 engaged in debt service; you were simply trying to get a
7 handle on whether there was any kind of debt service?

8 MR. RACHLIS: That is absolutely correct, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Let's go to a different line number.
10 2130.

11 So, if I am reading this right, we're talking about 12 claims administration objections, entry date March 18, 2020,
13 review claimant forms.

14 So, this goes to, Mr. Damashek, your objection that 15 collection of data is not part of the adjudication process?

16 MR. DAMASHEK: Correct.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 So, here's where I come down on this. I read Judge
19 Lee's decision on allocating fees and giving the receiver a 20 priming lien. I don't read it that narrowly. I think he 21 wanted to -- at least from my reading of the order -- wanted
22 to compensate the receiver for the bulk of the work already 23 performed; that is, maintaining and selling and liquidating
24 the properties, and also all the work that has been done in 25 terms of collecting data, identifying claimants, and getting

1 the process implemented.

2           You can't devise a plan without knowing who the 3 participants are. You can't devise a plan without knowing
4 what is really going on. So, it's not something that the 5 receiver can say one day, you know, I don't really know who 6 the claimants are, I don't really know what -- whether their 7 claims are for one property or multiple properties or whether 8 we have a single claim for one property or multiple claimants;
9 I'm just going to go ahead and devise this plan and see how it
10 goes.

11           I don't think that's the way this played out. I
12 think there was an orderly way of the receiver collecting the 13 data, figuring out who the claimants are, what do we do with 14 these claimants, and what is the best process in terms of 15 moving forward.

16           So, for those reasons, Objection No. 3 is overruled.

17           So, I think there is another objection that's very --
18 that's related to this, which is Objection No. 10, general fee
19 allocation. Again, I think, if I'm not mistaken, this 20 objection also relates to fees related to collecting
21 claims-related data.

22           Am I mistaken?

23           MR. NATARELLI: Most of the objections in this --

24           THE COURT: Your name for the record?

25           MR. NATARELLI: Yes, Brett Natarelli.

1           Most of the items in this category of objection
2 relate to claims administration. However, in concept, the 3 objection is different. And the fees are different. And 4 they're allocated differently.

5           So, as to general fee allocations, what the receiver
6 is saying is that every property's collateral needs to be 7 surcharged in a pro rata amount. So, not tied to how much
8 time was spent on that particular property.

9           In concept, all that should go in that bucket are 10 activities that benefitted only the secured creditors, whoever
11 they are, at the expense of the unsecured creditors, and did
12 so on an equal pro rata basis as to all of the properties.
13 That's the only thing that logically fits that category.

14           And that category nonetheless contains claims
15 administration work, both as to specific claimants, as to 16 claimants generally. It includes items that the receiver
17 would do anyway. As the receiver put it, that's what a
18 receiver does, we collect claims, we design the claim form.

19           Those are all things that would still happen in a
20 world where there were no secured creditors. If we didn't 21 exist and it was all unsecured creditors, the receiver would 22 have to take in claim forms --

23           THE COURT: I apologize.

24           MR. NATARELLI: -- analyze them --

25           THE COURT: I lost you there.

1           Why would your argument about whether these fees
2 should be allocated at all to these properties depend on 3 whether there are secured creditors and unsecured creditors?

4           MR. NATARELLI: Because in order to surcharge the 5 properties, the fees need to be -- have conferred a benefit on 6 the secured creditors. And, so, to the extent what the 7 receiver did benefits the estate as a whole, then the estate
8 should pay for it. This is a surcharge on the secured
9 creditors who have collateral, and that's inappropriate where 10 the activities are benefitting all the parties in the estate
11 generally.

12           THE COURT: It's like if money is coming into a 13 building, you want everything to be separate. If money has to 14 go out, you want everything to be all equal, in general. I
15 mean, that's the way I understand this. Somehow all these 16 fees should be coming out of another bucket altogether if 17 there is no positive value monetarily to the secured
18 creditors. That's what I'm hearing.

19           Am I mistaken?

20           MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, the law is that the 21 secured creditors only are charged a surcharge on their 22 collateral to the extent the properties were benefitted.
23 That's what the various orders in the case say --

24           THE COURT: Well, yeah. So, here is the -- yeah, 25 we're just going over the same ground again. Judge Lee has

1 already ruled on this issue; has he not?

2 MR. NATARELLI: He has not ruled on this issue.

3 THE COURT: I think he has. He says that the 4 receiver's work has benefitted all; has he not? Let me try to 5 find the quote.

6 MR. NATARELLI: Well, your Honor, if the receiver's
7 work benefitted the estate, that's all we're arguing, is that 8 the estate should be charged for it. So, if that's what 9 you're referring to, we don't dispute that the statement that 10 the receiver's work has benefitted the estate is correct.
11 We're just saying that fees that fall into that bucket need to 12 be charged to the estate as a whole.

13 THE COURT: Well, no, because all the money has to be 14 separated, right? So, it's fair to actually charge the 15 properties a pro rata share.

16 And if I'm not mistaken, the court has already 17 approved the practice of using the sales price as a proxy for 18 the time the receiver may have spent on certain tasks. I
19 don't know if I'm just making this up or whether I'm reading
20 this right.

21 Mr. Rachlis?

22 MR. RACHLIS: You're reading it correctly, your 23 Honor. That is what Judge Lee has held several times, both in 24 terms of the benefit and approving the methodology that you've 25 just described.

1 THE COURT: I'm trying to find --

2 MR. RACHLIS: The district court -- Judge
3 Lee's approval of the methodology -- your Honor, the approval
4 of the methodology is at Docket 824, Page 5.

5 THE COURT: So, here, it says again -- yes, Document
6 No. 824 -- non-specific property expenses and fees to be 7 allocated as a percentage of their gross sales price. Why
8 would he say that if it's coming from a general bucket? Why 9 would there be need for a pro rata share or calculating the 10 percentage by sales price?

11 MR. NATARELLI: The necessity of the bucket is for 12 activities that benefitted the properties at the expense of 13 the unsecured creditors in a way that's equal across all the 14 properties. Things that fit that category appropriately fall
15 on the general fee allocations. We're just saying that the 16 spreadsheet listing general fee allocations doesn't do that.

17 To take the same example from --

18 THE COURT: Oh, I found it. Here.

19 MR. NATARELLI: Yeah.

20 THE COURT: So, the court actually says: The Court
21 rejects the notion that the receiver has to make -- I'm sorry, 22 the Court has to make an individualized determination that the 23 fees assessed pursuant to the receiver's lien benefitted the 24 precise property.

25 And he goes on to say that, the claims process, this

1 particular process as a whole, is beneficial to all involved,
2 secured creditors, as well as unsecured creditors, because
3 this process was necessary to untangle the morass of competing
4 claims. Secured creditors may have certain statutory rights,
5 but I think the system we have in place is necessary because 6 of the scheme ran by the Cohens because of the situation that 7 we are all in. This isn't a situation where you have one
8 property, one lender and the lender trying to collect money
9 from that particular property.

10 Now, going back to this particular benefit to a
11 secured creditor, again, we're making the same argument --
12 you're making the same argument, I'm making the same ruling.
13 The court finds that the benefit is conferred on the estate.
14 And I don't see why Judge Lee would have said non-specific 15 property expenses and fees to be allocated as a percentage of 16 their gross sales price, for example, if the money is coming
17 from a general operating fund.

18 Why would that be? Can you answer that? Why would 19 you need to figure out the percentage based on the gross sales
20 price if these data collection fees should be coming out of a
21 general fund somewhere?

22 Shouldn't he have just said, oh, yeah, I approve your 23 fees, you can take it out of the general accounting -- general
24 operating fund? But he didn't do that, right?

25 MR. NATARELLI: Well, because it would be appropriate

1 to surcharge the properties, and surcharge them equally, to 2 the extent the receiver's work is adverse to the unsecured
3 creditors and as to the secured creditors' benefit.

4           And this is a distinct argument from the others
5 because we're not talking about any individual secured
6 creditor here. We're talking about the concept of unsecured
7 creditors and secured in different categories. And to the 8 extent the receiver is benefitting both, it's not appropriate
9 to charge the properties for that work.

10           THE COURT: Mr. Rachlis, I'll give you the last word 11 and move on.

12           MR. RACHLIS: Thank you, your Honor.

13           What's lost in that argument is that this process
14 that was in place was to deal with a disputed claims process.
15 These were -- that is what was in front of Judge Lee. Those 16 are the issues that were being discussed throughout the time
17 period because of the nature -- as your Honor just described,
18 the nature of the fraud, the nature of the scheme, which 19 involved these competing interests. Those are the ones that 20 needed to get addressed and have been addressed through the 21 process that was being developed.

22           So, I think that your Honor's correct in the way
23 you've looked at this.

24           THE COURT: Objection No. 10 is overruled.

25           Again, there is this fundamental difference between

1 the way the court is looking at it and the way the
2 institutional lenders are looking at it. The institutional
3 lenders are necessarily requiring a specific nexus between 4 anything that the receiver does and positive value to the 5 secured creditors' interest. I don't see that to be the 6 element that is necessary based on the prior rulings of the 7 court.

8 I think there's another category that's very related.
9 So, Objection No. 6, it says "not divisible." Let's take a
10 look at some examples to get a better understanding. Exhibit
11 C, let's go to Line No. 402. Actually, we're in the 2,000s,
12 so let's go to 2117.

13 So, if I'm reading this correctly, Line No. 2117 is 14 an entry dated March 3rd, 2020, and it's under the category of 15 Claims Administration and Objections. And the task performed
16 is described as: Preparation of summary of utility refund
17 checks received and analysis of accounts in which to deposit
18 funds.

19 What does that mean, Mr. Rachlis?

20 MR. RACHLIS: I believe at the time we had received
21 certain checks that were related to this claimant. And, so,
22 there was an effort to make sure that they were deposited in 23 the right -- in the right place.

24 THE COURT: Ms. Wine, do you have anything to add?

25 MS. WINE: No, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay. So, let's come back to the 2 institutional lenders.

3 So, Objection 6 is not divisible. What do you mean?

4 MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek for the institutional
5 lenders.

6 I don't know that the wording there is exactly what
7 I'd use, but let me explain how it applies to this concept.

8 This utility refund check was allocated against 103
9 properties, and it was not allocated to a particular property
10 for a utility refund to that property. I don't know if there
11 are ten utility refunds or a hundred utility refunds, but you
12 can't simply take a utility refund that applies to, let's say,
13 ten properties and allocate it across 103 properties, because 14 that would be surcharging my collateral with one of the 15 other -- a utility refund that benefitted or was associated 16 with somebody else's collateral.

17 THE COURT: Unless -- okay. So, the receiver looking 18 at this utility refund check, why should it be divided 19 among -- by the way, how much are we talking about here? .4?
20 .4 hours?

21 MR. RACHLIS: It's a dollar fifty-one.

22 THE COURT: Total?

23 MR. RACHLIS: For this -- on Exhibit C, total that's 24 been allocated to this lender.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1           So, how much is that total you think?

2           MS. WINE: It would be that times 103.

3           THE COURT: 1.51?

4           MR. RACHLIS: Dollar fifty-one times 103.

5           THE COURT: So, we're talking 160? Something like
6 that?

7           MR. RACHLIS: Yes. $155.53.

8           THE COURT: All right.

9           So, if you get a refund check, why couldn't you
10 figure out which property it goes to?

11           MR. RACHLIS: The check may not have identified it, 12 so you'd have to take a look. The check may be just to 13 Equitybuild, Inc., or some other type of entity. So, you do 14 have to go back through and make sure -- you have to -- 15 there's an effort that needs to be done as to making sure it
16 gets to the right place.

17           THE COURT: Do you even know how much it was?

18           MR. RACHLIS: Not as we're sitting here, your Honor.

19           THE COURT: I mean, ballpark it. Are we talking like 20 a hundred dollars or $10 million?

21           MR. RACHLIS: It's not $10 million, your Honor --

22           THE COURT: Okay.

23           MR. RACHLIS: -- as much as --

24           THE COURT: Well, let me get a better understanding.

25 Are we talking a thousand dollars? We're talking about a

1 utility refund check.

2 MR. RACHLIS: It's not -- it's going to be less than 3 five figures for certain. Likely -- so, it could be three- to 4 four-figure type of sum. That's what we're talking about.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. RACHLIS: Likely.

7 THE COURT: So, that falls under the category of 8 non-specific property expenses and fees to be allocated as a
9 percentage of sales -- gross sales price? Is that how we're 10 getting the 0.0038835?

11 MR. RACHLIS: Yes, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: What about that, Mr. Damashek? If you
13 can't figure out which property this refund check belongs to,
14 how can you bill a particular property? Why not just go ahead
15 and divide it among everyone?

16 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, this is pure speculation that 17 they --

18 THE COURT: Should I consider speculation?

19 MR. DAMASHEK: No.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. DAMASHEK: I think --

22 THE COURT: Then let's move on to something --

23 MR. DAMASHEK: I think we --

24 THE COURT: -- that's more real.

25 MR. DAMASHEK: Well, I think we need evidence. And

1 we don't know -- this one is a small dollar amount, .4. There
2 are others which are 2.2 or other amounts. For each of those,
3 you can't just say every secured creditor gets charged for 4 anything related to a utility refund. And if that -- 5 respectfully, if that's what the Court's saying, then there is 6 no allocation process associated with being a secured creditor
7 or not; you just divide everything up.

8 But the burden on the receiver, A, is to figure out
9 which property the utility charge goes to, and then charge
10 that property for it.

11 THE COURT: Well, sure.

12 MR. DAMASHEK: We can --

13 THE COURT: I mean, correct. You know, us lawyers,
14 we have the ability to think, make decisions, make judgments,
15 and I take it that the receiver, as a court officer, has to 16 make a decision or did make decisions based on the amount of 17 the refund check and how many hours he's going to spend trying 18 to figure out where this check belongs to and actually go
19 ahead and allocate that particular refund check to a
20 particular property. By then, we may be talking about more
21 fees compared to the actual refund check.

22 So, for that reason, the court has already recognized
23 that this is not an ideal situation. And the court has 24 already ruled that, look, the receiver is -- this is the 25 reason why we needed this particular process in place, and

1 this is the reason why the receiver's work is benefitting all.

2 You look like you want to say something.

3 MR. DAMASHEK: No.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 Let's take one more example and see if it's any
6 different. Let's go to 1288. No, I'm sorry. 2117, let's go
7 to something closer. 2696.

8 So, 2696 -- Line No. 2696 -- Exhibit C, this is an 9 entry dated October 22, 2020, and the task description says:
10 Record remaining unresolved title exceptions associated with 11 properties in tenth sales tranche. And there's an address:
12 4317 South Michigan, 4533 South Calumet, 4750 South Indiana,
13 6217 South Dorchester, 7024 South Paxton, and 7701 South
14 Essex. Begin researching same and preparing action plan for 15 discussion with title underwriter.

16 So, tell me what's going on here, Mr. Rachlis.

17 MR. RACHLIS: At the time, there were -- this is in 18 October of 2020, I believe.

19 THE COURT: Yes.

20 MR. RACHLIS: So, as referenced, there was the tenth
21 sales tranche was -- those were, I believe, the last remaining
22 properties or very close to that number of properties left
23 before they were all basically disposed. And as part of 24 getting prepared for addressing that sales tranche, there was 25 work being done in order to look at titleholders for all of

1 those properties, liens, and things of that nature.

2 So, what you have in there is a time entry, as well.

3 And that was only -- and the allocation there was to six
4 different properties. And the six different properties are 5 listed in the entry and are associated with the tenth sales
6 tranche and divided out the total amount listed. So, what's 7 been allocated here is $149.50.

8 THE COURT: So, this line number I got from the 9 response itself under Objection No. 6. It doesn't appear to 10 me that this is an across-the-board allocation.

11 MR. RACHLIS: It's not, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Damashek?

13 MR. DAMASHEK: That's correct. It's allocated to, I
14 believe, six specific properties or whatever the number of 15 properties it is here.

16 But the reason it's not divisible equally is -- 17 relates to the nature of the title exceptions. For instance, 18 let's say you had just two properties and one of the 19 properties has seven title exceptions and the other property
20 has one title exception. Do you divide the total time working 21 on title exceptions 50/50, even though the one exception maybe
22 could be resolved in ten minutes but the other might take two 23 hours? And that's why they're just grouping all title
24 exceptions, regardless of severity, in one entry and saying,
25 okay, each of them bear the same percentage. And that's why

1 it's not equally divisible and shouldn't be allocated
2 according to that formula.

3 THE COURT: And you don't know from looking at this
4 whether there were differing degrees of exceptions?

5 MR. DAMASHEK: There is no way to tell because there
6 was no evidence submitted by receiver to the Court, and it's 7 the receiver's burden of proof.

8 THE COURT: Yeah, but the Court is not asking for 9 mathematical precision, right? Just reasonable allocation.

10 MR. DAMASHEK: So, going back to my example with two 11 properties, one that takes 15 minutes and one that takes two 12 hours, my question would be, is that reasonable? I would say
13 no. Do you need mathematical precision? No. But you do need 14 a sound basis for the determination, and we don't have that 15 here.

16 THE COURT: Mr. Rachlis?

17 MR. RACHLIS: Yeah, no, we respectfully will disagree
18 with that. The whole process -- it's been outlined in the 19 papers. There's been an effort -- each timekeeper went back,
20 looked at these -- at the time entries, went back to make a 21 determination as to what was going on based on the entry, what 22 they were doing at the time. It was then reviewed by the 23 receiver and then submitted. So, it was a very painstaking
24 process that was gone through. So, the idea somehow that this 25 has been just sort of like done willy-nilly is not true.

1           And the standard, of course, is has there been --
2 maybe I'm paraphrasing it, but has there been a reasonable,
3 solid effort to do -- to perform the allocation and present it
4 to the Court? I think unquestionably, given the number of 5 hours that have been spent by everyone at this table and 6 everyone working on this, I think that's clearly been the 7 case.

8           And your Honor set forth the other guiding principle:
9 Is mathematical precision the standard that is to be met? The 10 answer is no; but here, would say that the entry that's there
11 is actually very precise, and it actually provides a good
12 amount of information. Based on everything that had -- you 13 know, underlied the presentation of this allocation to your 14 Honor, feel comfortable that that is a fair representation and 15 an adequate representation of hours and of the allocation
16 that's there.

17           THE COURT: Let me ask this question: When you're 18 actually filing a petition for fee approval, I take it then 19 the task description is the same?

20           MR. RACHLIS: I believe the answer is yes. That just 21 came from the fee -- that came from the fee application --

22           THE COURT: So, it's 149.50 times six? That's what 23 the fee application would have said.

24           MR. RACHLIS: 2.3 hours -- it would have said 2.3
25 hours. The other breakdown of the allocation itself wasn't

1 part of the fee petition, but the actual time entry and the 2 amount of it was there.

3 MS. WINE: And the billing rate.

4 MR. RACHLIS: And the billing rate.

5 So, basically, Column H, Column I, and then Column
6 N --

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. RACHLIS: -- would be all before Judge -- would 9 have been all before Judge Lee.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 So, again, going back to the objection and -- I'm 12 just not seeing anything wrong here that's unreasonable or 13 somehow unfair to anyone. Judge Lee has already looked at 14 this particular billing. He said, yeah, that looks good. And 15 the receiver then went back and decided fairly divide the time
16 by six and allocated one-sixth of the fee to six different
17 properties. I don't see that the receiver has to do much more 18 than that. So, for purposes of this case, Objection No. 6 is 19 overruled.

20 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, may I ask you to look at one
21 other entry?

22 THE COURT: Okay. Where?

23 MR. DAMASHEK: Along the same lines.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. DAMASHEK: If we could turn to -- it's still in

1 Exhibit C.

2 THE COURT: Yes.

3 MR. DAMASHEK: And it is 2355.

4 THE COURT: 2355.

5 All right. 2355 is -- it's categorized as asset
6 disposition. Entry date is June 6th, 2020. 2355. Task
7 description is: Begin preparation of spreadsheet listing all
8 properties, associated litigation matters, judgment amounts,
9 judgment dates, and payment status. Task hours 3.2, and it
10 looks like it's divided among 79 properties.

11 Am I reading the line correctly, Mr. Damashek?

12 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MR. DAMASHEK: So, my -- the same issue arises here
15 because not all 79 properties had litigation matters, judgment
16 amounts, judgment liens, and payment status. Now, that's an 17 assumption by me because we haven't seen evidence from the 18 receiver saying that all of those properties had that.

19 But what you have is an entry dealing with properties
20 that have judgment liens being assessed against 79 properties.
21 And if all 79 of those properties did not have judgment liens,
22 it is improper to allocate those funds -- that charge against 23 all those properties.

24 THE COURT: Let me ask this question of Mr. Rachlis.

25 When he says under task description and after the

1 description it has a parentheses and an amount -- a number,
2 3.2, what does that mean?

3 MR. RACHLIS: 3.2 hours.

4 THE COURT: Total hours spent?

5 MR. RACHLIS: On those tasks, yes.

6 THE COURT: And that's divided among 79 properties.

7 So, each property -- each of the 79 properties is charged
8 $15.80?

9 MR. RACHLIS: That's correct, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: See, I mean, if you're going to pick an 11 example, you should have picked a better example because when 12 you're actually preparing a spreadsheet like an Excel
13 spreadsheet, we're talking seconds in entering the data. And 14 if a property has more litigation matters and more judgment
15 dates and more payment status data, I'll give you -- I'll 16 agree with you that a certain line number will take three 17 seconds rather than five seconds.

18 I'm not going to require the receiver to track those 19 seconds and allocate the fees associated with those seconds
20 for those particular properties. I don't see anything wrong
21 with this particular line entry. I don't see anything wrong
22 with dividing 3.2 hours among 79 properties. Presumably, 79
23 properties were, in fact, on this particular spreadsheet.

24 Let's move on. Let's go to ambiguous entries. This 25 is Objection No. 8. And let's go to Exhibit C, 2205. Again,

1 I'm getting these line numbers from the response. 2205,
2 Exhibit C.

3 This is billing category Business Operations. Entry
4 date is April 21, 2020. And, then, there's the task 5 description of "call," and the total time spent on the call is 6 tenth of a minute. And this tenth of a minute is spread among 7 103 properties? Am I reading this correctly?

8 MR. RACHLIS: I'm sorry, I'm just getting it called 9 up.

10 (Brief pause.)

11 MR. RACHLIS: You are reading correctly, your Honor, 12 that that .1 call was spread out -- was divided, then, among 13 the properties. So, you're correct about that.

14 THE COURT: But what call? I mean, that's probably 15 what the lenders are questioning.

16 MR. RACHLIS: Yeah, we're going back. Let us take 17 one second here to take a look at another spreadsheet.

18 (Brief pause.)

19 MR. DUFF: Your Honor, if I may? Kevin Duff.

20 THE COURT: Yes.

21 MR. DUFF: Your Honor, that particular entry only
22 reads as "call" because of the way that the tasks were divided
23 when we created the spreadsheets. To be able to understand 24 what that call related to, you would need to look at the 25 entire entry description. So, there's related entries. I

1 don't have the line items for your Honor right now, but they
2 would be the entries right on either side of that.

3           And what it would show is that this call was between 4 Ellen Duff, a lawyer at the office, and myself; and, it
5 related to reimbursable amounts by properties. And, so, the 6 fact that that call for a tenth of an hour, this was 7 obviously -- there were other things going on in connection
8 with that work. Part of that work included a call with me,
9 which was six minutes long, and related to a general
10 discussion of the reimbursable amounts by properties.

11           THE COURT: So, this particular entry is for which 12 property? What am I looking at here?

13           Anyone from the lenders' side?

14           Exhibit C.

15           MR. DAMASHEK: It was divided between 103 properties,
16 Judge. I don't think it's worth our spending the time on this 17 particular entry, other than to say you're exactly right. We 18 looked at an entry here that said "call." There's no way and 19 there was no proof submitted to the Court as to what that call
20 did. Mr. Duff is explaining to you that it relates to a 21 larger entry in an invoice, which wasn't attached, and -- but 22 we are only talking about .1 here, and it was divided against
23 103 properties.

24           MS. WINE: Your Honor, if I may?

25           THE COURT: Ms. Wine.

1 MS. WINE: The reply brief that was submitted to the 2 Court had an exhibit that was a chart that addressed many of 3 these objections.

4 THE COURT: I'm trying to find it. So, hold on a
5 second. Let me see --

6 MS. WINE: Particular one was Row 65.

7 MR. RACHLIS: That was Exhibit 1 to our reply brief,
8 your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Hold on.

10 MS. WINE: It's Docket 1230, Exhibit 1.

11 MR. RACHLIS: Page 13 of Exhibit 1.

12 THE COURT: So, when you filed the motion, you filed
13 PDF attachments. And I'm trying to find the Excel
14 spreadsheet.

15 MS. WINE: It's Page 52 of 157.

16 MR. RACHLIS: Yes, on Docket 130.

17 (Brief pause.)

18 THE COURT: Okay. Docket entry --

19 MR. RACHLIS: So, it's Docket 1230.

20 THE COURT: 1230.

21 MR. RACHLIS: Page --

22 THE COURT: Give me one second.

23 MR. RACHLIS: Page 52.

24 THE COURT: 1230.

25 Oh, that exhibit.

1 MR. RACHLIS: Yes. Which does specifically address
2 that line and page reference number 2205.

3 THE COURT: Row number?

4 MR. RACHLIS: Row No. 65. So, if you go to Page 52,
5 it's the one that's No. 65 towards the bottom.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

7 Let's look at one more, 2192. 2192.

8 Again, this is a line number I got from the response,
9 2192. The objection here is that the entry is ambiguous,
10 lacking in details. 2192 is classified as asset disposition,
11 entry date April 20, 2020. Task performed: Review due 12 diligence documents received from property manager from 13 various properties.

14 Now, remember, the lenders object to the reference
15 to, quote-unquote, various properties, and yet it's divided 16 over -- divided between -- among 36 properties.

17 How do you get there?

18 MR. DUFF: Your Honor, Kevin Duff. I'd be happy to 19 address that.

20 After we submitted the fee applications and those 21 were approved by the court, when we were going through the 22 process of making sure that the allocations were correct, we 23 spent hundreds if not over a thousand hours to go back through 24 every task entry to make sure that the allocation was correct.

25 Initially, especially in some of the early days of

1 the receivership, we did not include an allocation. But we 2 made a concerted and earnest effort to make sure that the 3 allocations were proper. So, in this instance, we looked at 4 this particular task. We had the bill keeper first check to 5 make sure that they had the allocation correct, and then
6 either Ms. Wine or I or both of us double-checked that to make 7 sure that the allocation actually related to the properties to 8 which it was allocated.

9 THE COURT: I'm sorry, but that doesn't answer the 10 question. You have this entry for various properties, and yet
11 you divide the charge among 36 properties. What's the 12 rationale there? Why not 103 properties?

13 MR. DUFF: I believe --

14 THE COURT: How are you getting to the 36? That's my 15 question.

16 MR. DUFF: I believe in that instance, your Honor, it
17 related to properties that were under management by one of the 18 two property managers, and that allocation corresponded to 19 those properties that were under management by that property
20 manager.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 Any comments from the institutional lenders?

23 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes, Judge. In the receiver --

24 THE COURT: Mr. Damashek, go ahead.

25 MR. DAMASHEK: Sorry, Judge. Ron Damashek.

1           In the receiver's response to our motion, they
2 prepared a chart -- and, actually, I believe it would have 3 been the reply to our objection -- they prepared a chart in 4 which they said the receiver agrees this allocation is 5 incorrect. Further investing --

6           THE COURT: Hold on a second.

7           MR. DAMASHEK: I'm sorry, this is --

8           THE COURT: Which page number?

9           MR. DAMASHEK: Document 1230, Page 46 of 157, first
10 line.

11          THE COURT: 46.

12          And row number?

13          MR. DAMASHEK: The first one, Judge.

14          THE COURT: Oh, sorry.

15          MR. DAMASHEK: 31.

16          MR. RACHLIS: Yep.

17          THE COURT: Okay?

18          MR. RACHLIS: Yep.

19          THE COURT: Mr. Damashek is correct.

20          MR. RACHLIS: Is correct -- yes, he's correct.

21          THE COURT: So, when you say the task will be 22 reallocated to the following properties -- one, two, three,
23 four, five, six, seven -- am I reading that correctly?

24          MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

25          THE COURT: So, how is this going to take place?

1 Walk me through how you will do this.

2 MR. RACHLIS: So, your Honor, what we had identified
3 on this exact exhibit, this row entry and a few others, as 4 well, we would -- after the -- we figured -- what we were 5 going -- planning on doing was after we understood if there
6 were any other issues or items that needed to be addressed or 7 corrected, we are going to go ahead and rerun all of these 8 spreadsheets for your Honor, which will then take into account
9 basically deleting, essentially, the entry that you see;
10 reentering the allocation, I mean, to what you -- what is 11 here; and, then, providing your Honor with corrected or 12 amended versions of each of these reports, which does take 13 both time -- that is -- I think we had indicated in our 14 pleadings that we have a vendor that we are using in order to 15 help make this doable and feasible. So, we'll work with that 16 vendor.

17 So, there's both time and cost expense associated 18 with rerunning these. So, we wanted to be sure that we had 19 everything that needed to get corrected done before we go
20 ahead and rerun them.

21 THE COURT: Mr. Damashek, did you find any other
22 entries where the receiver agrees with the objection?

23 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes. There were several, Judge. But 24 one comment with respect to this, again, the receiver is 25 telling us now that's what he's finding. I don't know -- and

1 we have representative examples here, and I'll get to them.
2 But remember, we only have maybe a hundred out of thousands of 3 examples here. So, how many other places might there be 4 errors like this? And I don't know how we deal with that in 5 the context of the receiver acknowledging certain things are 6 wrong.

7 If we look on Page 41 of 1 -- of Document 1230 --

8 THE COURT: Give me one second.

9 (Brief pause.)

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 MR. DAMASHEK: Line -- Row 9. That relates to 12 property in Naples, Florida, in which the receiver agrees that 13 was improperly charged to the secured properties.

14 MS. WINE: If I can interject for one moment, your 15 Honor?

16 THE COURT: Ms. Wine.

17 MS. WINE: You had asked when we had a call last week
18 whether there were certain errors that we had identified. And 19 there are such errors, and they're on different rows of this 20 sheet that we're all looking at. I can tell you the lines
21 right now and put it in the record. It's Row 9, 11, 12, 13,
22 15, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 26, and 31.

23 THE COURT: So, how many is that total? What's the 24 total?

25 MS. WINE: 12.

1 THE COURT: But am I correct, then, that we have 2 total line numbers 72 in the exhibit, right?

3 MS. WINE: That's correct.

4 THE COURT: And we have 12 errors?

5 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

6 THE COURT: Don't you think that's a sizable
7 percentage?

8 What's the percentage if we were to divide 12 by 72?

9 MR. NATARELLI: That's about 16, Judge.

10 THE COURT: 16 percent?

11 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, it's about 16 percent, that 12 number. But we would probably disagree with the denominator
13 that you're using there. The denominator is more -- there are 14 probably 30,000 or 50,000 entries that are included in all of 15 this. So, you are seeing, I'd say, a very minor figure of 16 items that need to be corrected.

17 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, if I may? Andrew --

18 THE COURT: Hold on a second.

19 So, 72 lines are lines identified by the 20 institutional lenders in the response, right?

21 MR. RACHLIS: They are -- they were examples. And,
22 so, we went through each example that they gave in order to 23 create Exhibit 1 that's attached to 1230.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 I'm sorry. Go ahead. Your name?

1 MR. McCLAIN: Andrew McClain, your Honor. Thank you.

2 I want to stick with the point that you just pointed 3 out, your Honor, of there's 72 examples in the exhibit and at 4 least 12 of them have admittedly been allocated to the wrong
5 property. One of the institutional lenders' basis for an 6 objection is improper allocation among properties. And in our 7 response brief, we identified 13 examples where we believe 8 there were improper allocations, and those are on Exhibit D to 9 the response brief. And of those 13 examples that we 10 identified, your Honor, the receiver admitted that seven of 11 those entries were improperly allocated to the property in 12 Exhibit D.

13 So, that percentage is actually 50 -- over 50
14 percent, your Honor. And within that same objection, we 15 identified 11 examples from Exhibit C. And the receiver
16 conceded that four of those 11 examples were improperly
17 allocated. And, so, that percentage of error is approximately 18 a third.

19 And, so, your Honor pointed out exactly one of our 20 concerns, is that there seems to be, at least on the examples
21 that we identified -- and I recognize there's 20,000-plus
22 pages of time entries, but on the examples we identified --
23 there seems to be a high percentage of error rate. And that 24 is concerning when we're talking very large numbers here. I
25 recognize in isolation some of these entries are only a few

1 cents. But they add up to significant dollar amounts.

2 THE COURT: My gut reaction is the same as yours,
3 that the percentage appears to be high. But I have to 4 remember that we're not dealing with a statistically sound
5 sample.

6 In other words, I can't draw an inference that all of 7 the fees charged and allocated there's a 16 percent error rate
8 because I really don't know. Because I'm sure, given how good
9 the attorneys are, you're pointing out the obvious examples
10 where you can support your objection. So, among a rich set of 11 alleged errors, we have 16 percent where the receiver agrees
12 that there was an error.

13 Let me ask this question: What is the purpose of the 14 20 percent holdback, and how is that going to be -- how is 15 that going to actually come into play?

16 Actually, you know what? Hold that thought. Let's
17 go ahead and take a break until -- actually, why don't we go 18 ahead and finish that point, and then we'll just pick it up on 19 Friday.

20 Oh, yes, the holdback. How is that actually going to 21 come into play? Who wants to address that?

22 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, so the holdback of the 23 fees, as I understand it -- not to put the SEC's attorney on 24 the spot, but perhaps he can opine a little better. But my 25 understanding is that it's intended to ensure that there's

1 excess reserves at the end of the estate to pay remaining
2 funds or to pay remaining expenses and potentially be
3 distributed to other creditors of the estate.

4 THE COURT: What is your interpretation?

5 I'm asking the receiver.

6 MR. DUFF: Yes, your Honor. Kevin Duff.

7 Your Honor, I believe that when Judge Lee ordered the 8 hold-back, it was in part to ensure that, as your Honor -- as 9 this Court went through this process, if there was a need for 10 any corrections, there would be a cushion there in order to 11 cover that.

12 So, the 20 percent here that had been ordered for 13 properties and then an additional 20 percent with respect to 14 fees specifically allocated to properties would be more than 15 enough to cover here.

16 And I think the point has been noted, but it's worth
17 emphasizing. We're talking about a sample of a very small 18 number of items that we have agreed ought to be corrected in 19 relation to, I believe, nearly 22,000 separate tasks.

20 THE COURT: I'm not understanding how the holdback --
21 so, let me start from scratch.

22 How much are you asking to be paid now through this 23 motion of allocation, the first motion to allocate?

24 MR. DUFF: Are you asking a matter of percentage,
25 your Honor, or amount?

1 THE COURT: No, no, the actual amount.

2 MR. RACHLIS: Actual amount.

3 (Brief pause.)

4 THE COURT: It's probably listed on one of the 5 exhibits.

6 MR. RACHLIS: Yes. That's what we're --

7 THE COURT: Exhibit 1.

8 MR. RACHLIS: So, you're right, your Honor. It's 9 Exhibit 2, yes. We're looking at the bottom of Docket No.
10 1107-8 filed. And at the bottom, we have a total of --

11 Is it this total here? Yeah?

12 So, it would be total fees are three million nine
13 hundred and forty-three dollars and twenty-nine -- I'm sorry, 14 $3,943,029.54.

15 THE COURT: Okay. So --

16 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, just one thing. As you
17 know, this was done in December of 2021. We've had some 18 resolution of claims with your Honor's help, and those have 19 been approved by the court. So, that number is less right now
20 as a result of certain --

21 THE COURT: It's okay. I just want to use a real 22 figure to figure out how this holdback works.

23 So, the first motion for allocation is seeking 24 approximately $3.9 million. And if I were to grant the motion
25 for allocation, I grant the motion in the amount of 80 percent

1 of 3.9 million?

2 MR. RACHLIS: That would be correct, your Honor,
3 although there are -- there are other hold-backs that Judge
4 Lee had included for certain of the fee application awards
5 that were given.

6 THE COURT: So --

7 MR. RACHLIS: But, generally speaking, it would be -- 8 80 percent is a right figure to be thinking about.

9 THE COURT: So, what is 20 percent of 3.9 million?
10 Just give me a ballpark number.

11 MR. RACHLIS: If we round it up to four, it's 800,000
12 -- it's approximately $800,000.

13 THE COURT: So, where does the $800,000 go?

14 MR. RACHLIS: The $800,000 would be -- would remain
15 in each of the property accounts.

16 THE COURT: And at what point -- I mean, I imagine
17 that at some point the receiver will say, hey, wait a second,
18 where's my $800,000?

19 When will that take place, and who is going to decide
20 whether anything has to be reverted to the property owners?

21 MR. RACHLIS: I would believe, your Honor, that 22 unless there's some interim motion or other thing that would 23 be submitted, it would be at the time of the final
24 distribution plan that would be given to Judge Shah when we're 25 getting close to, basically, distributing everything else

1 from, basically, making final distributions from the estate.

2 THE COURT: But someone would have to actually go
3 through line by line to figure out where there was an error
4 and notify the court, oh, and by the way, we made an error as 5 to X amount.

6 MR. RACHLIS: It could be that, your Honor, or it
7 could be also related to future fee petitions or something to 8 that effect. I mean, it could be utilized as a cushion in 9 some sense, I think, going forward, as well, to have the 10 holdback.

11 But, yes, in some sense, your Honor's correct. I
12 guess -- I'm thinking about it. It could be used in a variety
13 of ways as a cushion. But, certainly, your Honor, yes, that's 14 true.

15 And Ms. Wine reminded me the holdback just began with 16 the ninth fee application. So, the first eight did not have 17 any.

18 THE COURT: So, it wouldn't be 20 percent of 3.9. It
19 would be much less.

20 MR. RACHLIS: It would be less, but for round -- yes,
21 that's correct, your Honor.

22 MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, Brett Natarelli.

23 The reason for that is because the first eight fee
24 petitions were paid out of the operating account. That was 25 historically what preceded.

1 MR. RACHLIS: To be accurate, the first eight weren't
2 paid. The first three were paid. The remainder were not.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 So, in terms of Objection 8, the objection is 5 overruled. Having gone through the details, there's 6 sufficient information for me to approve that the receiver has 7 followed the court's directions and doing its best to allocate 8 the work performed to the properties necessary. Although we 9 have identified a potential that there is a percentage error,
10 I can't decide what that percentage is. But even with this 11 unscientific sample of entries, we have a 16 percent error
12 rate, which is, again, not very scientific, but it is, in 13 fact, lower than 20 percent. So, for that reason, I am not 14 going to hold the error over the receiver and sustain the 15 objection. That's my ruling.

16 So, that leaves us with Objection 1 and Objection 2.
17 We will pick up those two objections on Friday. But if you
18 want to start earlier, since it's Friday, I'm more than happy
19 to accommodate. Otherwise, my preference is to start at 1:00
20 p.m.

21 Any thoughts on that particular issue?

22 MR. RACHLIS: From the receiver's perspective, we can 23 start whenever your Honor would like to start.

24 THE COURT: I can start as early as 11:00 a.m.

25 MR. RACHLIS: 11:00 a.m. works for the receiver.

1 THE COURT: Only if there's an agreement.

2 MR. NATARELLI: 11:00 it is, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Okay. I'll see you at 11:00 a.m. Friday
4 morning.

5 MR. HANAUER: Your Honor, one very quick housekeeping
6 matter. Ben Hanauer for --

7 THE COURT: Yes. Have a seat.

8 MR. HANAUER: -- the SEC.

9 THE COURT: Have a seat.

10 MR. HANAUER: The Court spent a significant amount of 11 time addressing Objection 6, but I don't believe a formal
12 ruling was ever made on the record for it. I think the Court
13 intimated how it viewed it, but, again, I didn't hear --

14 THE COURT: I overruled the objection.

15 MR. HANAUER: Oh, thank you. I just didn't hear that 16 for the record.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. HANAUER: Apologies, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: What other housekeeping matters?

20 MR. RACHLIS: That was it.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 Thank you. See you Friday.

23 (Adjournment taken at 4:32 o'clock p.m., until 11:00
24 o'clock a.m., the following Friday, February 10, 2023.)

1 (Proceedings had in open court, in part via telephone
2 conference:)

3 THE CLERK: 18 CV 5587, United States Securities and 4 Exchange Commission vs. Equitybuild, Incorporated, et al.

5 THE COURT: Good morning.

6 Do we have someone from SEC?

7 MR. HANAUER: Good morning, your Honor, Ben Hanauer
8 for the SEC.

9 THE COURT: And the receiver?

10 MR. RACHLIS: Good morning, your Honor, Michael 11 Rachlis on behalf of the receiver.

12 MS. WINE: Good morning, Jodi Wine also on behalf of 13 the receiver.

14 MR. DUFF: Good morning, your Honor, Kevin Duff, the 15 receiver.

16 THE COURT: And on the institutional lenders' side.
17 We've already gone through the names of the 18 institutions. So, today, just let me know your name and I'm 19 sure we can match it up later if necessary.

20 Go ahead.

21 MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek, D-a-m-a-s-h-e-k, for 22 Liberty.

23 I also would note that Brad Anderson was here
24 yesterday for some other institutional lenders. He is out of 25 town, but he is listening in by phone today.

1 MR. McCLAIN: Good morning, your Honor, Andrew
2 McClain, M-c-C-l-a-i-n, appearing on behalf of the same
3 entities noted on the record on Wednesday. And I would also 4 note that Mike Johnson is appearing by phone, and he 5 represents FHFA.

6 MR. NATARELLI: Good morning, your Honor, Brett
7 Natarelli, N, as in Nancy, a-t-a-r-e-l-l-i, on behalf of the 8 same institutional lenders referenced on Wednesday.

9 THE COURT: Thank you.

10 Oh, yes.

11 MR. FULLERTON: Good morning, your Honor, Tom 12 Fullerton, F-u-l-l-e-r-t-o-n, for Midland Loan Services.

13 THE COURT: Thank you.

14 I think that we still have -- again, I'm referring to 15 lenders' objection, Document No. 1210. We still have 16 Objection Nos. 1, 2, and 11 left. But before we move forward
17 to the specific objections, I have a question based on our 18 last discussion.

19 So, based on the lenders' perspective, it sounds to 20 me like the lenders would oppose any fees incurred by the 21 receiver in connection with this particular motion practice to 22 be charged to the properties for which the lenders have 23 security interest.

24 Would that be fair to say?

25 MR. McCLAIN: Yes, your Honor, I believe that is fair

1 to say.

2 THE COURT: Even though the institutional lenders are 3 causing the receiver to incur these fees?

4 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, yes, we are opposing the 5 fees requested by the receiver. And the basis for opposition
6 to that is what we believe the well-established case law and 7 our rights. So, it's kind of a chicken-and-egg game, your 8 Honor, because we need to preserve our rights and we need to 9 assert our rights. But then we're also getting charged back
10 for defending those rights by virtue of the receiver fees from 11 challenging our liens and our rights.

12 And that goes to the Elliott case, where the case law
13 says the properties and the secured lenders -- and what I mean 14 by secured lenders, it's not necessarily just the,
15 quote-unquote, group of institutional lenders. If some of 16 the, quote-unquote, Equitybuild investors are deemed secured
17 lenders, they're also paying for this.

18 And, so, the Elliott case stands for the proposition
19 that the receiver is not entitled to surcharge any secured
20 creditor's collateral for work associated with opposing or 21 taking adverse action against those secured interests.

22 And, so, I want to make it clear that it's not just 23 the so-called group of institutional lenders that are getting 24 surcharged here; it's any secured creditor who's deemed a
25 secured creditor that's going to ultimately pay for this.

1 THE COURT: Well, many claimants have not posed an
2 objection. So, those claimants have nothing to do with 3 forcing the receiver to file a reply brief and also to attend
4 two days of hearings.

5 MR. McCLAIN: That is correct, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Including -- including -- those with a
7 secured interest.

8 MR. McCLAIN: That is correct, your Honor. Many of 9 the, quote-unquote, investor -- Equitybuild investors are also 10 not represented by counsel. So, in essence -- and I'm trying 11 to be careful of professional responsibility, but we are 12 almost advocating on behalf of all secured lenders because if 13 it's determined that our clients are deemed subordinate and 14 another institutional lender is deemed the senior secured
15 lender, that institutional -- that Equitybuild investor is 16 going to lose because the proceeds will have been depleted by 17 whatever the Court's going to award from this motion.

18 THE COURT: So, where would the -- this is out of 19 curiosity, obviously, because the issue isn't before the 20 Court. Where would the fees come from if we were to take that 21 position forward?

22 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, that issue is before the 23 Court because the fees would be paid out of the unencumbered
24 assets of the estate. And what I mean by that is -- as your 25 Honor knows, this estate is massive. And there's a lot of

1 parties that assert secured interests. So, we have funds in 2 which parties assert a secured interest, and then we have 3 funds in which no party asserts a secured interest. And those 4 latter funds are the unencumbered assets, and that's where the 5 payment would come from if the Court determines that a
6 particular fee should not be surcharged to the encumbered
7 funds.

8 THE COURT: See, the idea that certain properties are 9 encumbered and certain properties are not encumbered, I'm not 10 sure that that distinction really applies in this particular
11 case where many folks were victimized by the Cohens' fraud.

12 So, what difference does it make whether a property's
13 encumbered or not encumbered? The purpose of the process is 14 to liquidate and then to administer the assets to those who 15 are, in fact, victimized.

16 I do understand that some claimants would have 17 different rights -- well, let me -- I don't want to go down
18 this path too much. This particular issue is not before the 19 Court because the attorneys have not -- the allocation motion
20 doesn't include any fees associated with filing the motion, 21 replying to the motion, in support of the motion, and 22 attending these hearings. And I'll let somebody else deal
23 with it. Or maybe I'll have to deal with it at some point.

24 But I'm just curious. Let me ask this question of 25 the receiver. And I certainly handle parts of the case, but

1 what's the genesis of maintaining separate accounts based on 2 separate properties?

3 I ask this question because having read through the 4 Elliott case, in that particular case, it was much simpler.
5 All assets belonging to the estate were sold, liquidated; and,
6 once we had a cash account, the receiver then had to help,
7 essentially, allocate those funds to various claimants. But 8 here, we have silos, essentially, of funds.

9 What's the genesis for that? Why not just sell all 10 the buildings, put it into one account, and figure out who is 11 entitled to what?

12 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, my recollection of that 13 would lead back to the ruling on the rent -- the issues about 14 -- associated with how rents were going to be utilized. So,
15 this so-called rent allocation issue that your Honor dealt
16 with on Wednesday.

17 Your Honor had ruled in February of 2019 that those 18 rents were to be not used from Property A for Property B's
19 repair. So, once there was -- and I'll go back to say that 20 Judge Lee, prior to that point, also was well aware of that 21 being the case and didn't -- and was fine with that until a
22 ruling had come down associated with this rent allocation
23 question.

24 So, once there was the rent -- the rent issue was 25 resolved such that there would be -- rent for Property A would

1 be kept with Property A, there was then an effort to go ahead
2 and do all the accounting and all the other -- whether -- 3 irrespective of what was going to be happening, everything was 4 going to be done property by property. That's really what
5 was -- so, I would say that was the genesis.

6 And, then, of course, it's not that complicated when 7 you have a sale of Property A when the proceeds of that would 8 be available after expenses and things of that nature to go to 9 that silo.

10 So, it was really, I think, at that point in time
11 that we had basically the Court's indication as to what it
12 wished to occur, and we followed that through -- up until this 13 point. And, then, every order, for example, on a property
14 sale or whatnot then would have an order saying that those 15 proceeds would be kept in a separate account.

16 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, if I may just respond to 17 that, because I do think that this issue is very pertinent to 18 this motion.

19 Mr. Rachlis' position is partially correct, your 20 Honor. The nexus of where the siloed sale proceeds came from 21 and why they're, quote-unquote, encumbered is because when the 22 receiver started to sell all 100 properties, we filed
23 objections because we had liens on the properties. And,
24 again, this isn't just the institutional lenders that had 25 liens. It's anyone who claimed a secured interest in that

1 property had a lien on that property.

2 And we objected to the sale because if there was a
3 sale, then our lien from the actual real estate properly flows
4 through and sticks to the sale proceeds. And, so, Judge Lee
5 recognized all parties' security interests -- not just the 6 institutional lenders, but every party that claims a security
7 interest -- recognized their secured rights in those sale
8 proceeds and said, I want every single sale proceeds to be 9 segregated; the liens that attach to the real estate will flow
10 through and attach to the sale proceeds.

11 And, so, that's why we're here today. Because what 12 the receiver wants to do is pay money out of the sale
13 proceeds, all 100 accounts, that are encumbered by everybody's 14 secured interest. So, it is very pertinent to this issue
15 because, in essence, what the receiver is now doing is jumping
16 ahead of every single one of the parties in one of those 17 siloed accounts and saying, sure, you might have a secured
18 interest, but I'm going to get paid above your secured
19 interest and before you get any money.

20 THE COURT: Yeah, which has been litigated.

21 MR. RACHLIS: Yeah.

22 THE COURT: And the receiver prevailed on that 23 particular issue.

24 MR. McCLAIN: Well, not fully, your Honor. And 25 that's why we're here today.

1 THE COURT: Let's go to Objection No. 1, improper
2 allocation. And we may have touched on this when Ms. Wine
3 gave us the line numbers from the reply exhibit where the 4 receiver found some errors. But let's go through this.

5 So, the first one I want to take a look at. Again,
6 I'm getting these exhibit letters and line numbers from the 7 objection document, Document No. 1210. Let's take a look at 8 Exhibit C, Line No. 1840.

9 So, Line No. 1840 says -- it's categorized as asset
10 disposition. Entry date is December 12, 2019. And the task
11 description: .3 hours, exchange correspondence with E. Duff
12 relating to a discrepancy in the financial statements. And it 13 looks like .3 hours were allocated to all 103 properties in 14 the amount of 41 cents.

15 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, may I ask one more time to 16 repeat the line number. We're looking at 1840? Is that what 17 your Honor had --

18 THE COURT: 1840, Exhibit C.

19 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, Ron --

20 THE COURT: No, I apologize. I read the wrong line.
21 I'm glad you caught that.

22 So, 1840, asset disposition, Entry No. -- I'm sorry, 23 entry date December 16, 2019, .2 hours, teleconference with 24 receivership broker regarding current status of closings,
25 status of remediation of fire-damaged properties, and effect

1 on current offers, and timing of future motions to approve
2 sales. .2 hours were then allocated to 95 properties in the 3 amount of 82 cents per property.

4 Do I have that right?

5 MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek.

6 That's correct.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 So, tell me, from the lenders' point of view, what is 9 the objection with respect to this line entry.

10 MR. DAMASHEK: There are really two problems with 11 it --

12 THE COURT: Oh, I'm sorry. Can I just stop.

13 Ms. Wine, is this one of the lines where the receiver
14 said, hey, we made an error?

15 MS. WINE: It is not, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 Go ahead, Mr. Damashek.

18 MR. DAMASHEK: So, there are two problems with this.
19 The first problem is that this entry relates to the status of 20 remediation of fire-damaged properties. This entry is being 21 allocated against 95 properties. I am not sure of the number
22 of fire-damaged properties. I know it's not 95. I believe 23 it's a very small number of properties. And, therefore, it is 24 improper to allocate charges related to fire-damaged
25 properties across all of the properties because the work does

1 not relate to the secured -- to each of those 95 properties,
2 nor does the work benefit each of those 95 properties. That's 3 the first prong of this.

4 To the extent that the balance of this entry may 5 refer to future motions to approve sales, for instance, this 6 is a compound entry. And I liken this to any trial where a
7 compound question is asked. You need to break the two parts
8 out, and you can't have compound entries here -- and the 9 receiver's task allocations are replete with such entries --
10 where you say this relates to everything, but the other half 11 of it relates to something. How do we know which is which?

12 But in any case, either prong supports the objection.

13 THE COURT: Response from the receiver?

14 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, we did put that in writing, 15 as well.

16 THE COURT: Hold on a second.

17 Mr. Rachlis, can you take the base of the microphone
18 and just pull it closer to you.

19 MR. RACHLIS: Yes.

20 THE COURT: Thank you.

21 MR. RACHLIS: Is that better? I apologize.

22 THE COURT: Just making it easier on you.

23 Go ahead.

24 MR. RACHLIS: Thank you, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: What's the response?

1 MR. RACHLIS: So, we did -- it's in writing, as well,
2 for your Honor in Exhibit 1, Row 4, of our Exhibit 1 to our
3 reply brief. But it is basically that if you read the 4 entirety of the narrative, it deals with the status on all
5 unsold properties. The fact that there is some fire-related 6 properties, which clearly is correct that there were less than 7 95, does not eliminate the fact that the purpose of the call
8 was to discuss the status of all the unsold properties and 9 strategies regarding same. And it seems that the task
10 narrative is pretty clear about that.

11 And, so, when you consider both the narrative, as 12 well as the law governing this in terms of they're not going 13 to -- it would be virtually impossible to take four seconds or 14 ten seconds of that call and somehow then separate it out.
15 This is an earnest effort to properly allocate to those 16 properties that were the subject of the call.

17 THE COURT: Thank you.

18 Let's go to a different number, see if we can get a 19 better understanding. 2176, Exhibit C. And let's see what 20 this says. So --

21 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, the receiver agreed on this 22 one.

23 MR. DUFF: Yeah.

24 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

25 Let's go to 2355.

1           So, 2355 Exhibit C says -- it's classified as asset
2 disposition, entry date June 6th, 2020. The task description
3 says: Begin preparation of spreadsheet listing all
4 properties, associated litigation matters, judgment amounts,
5 judgment dates, and payment status. 3.2 hours. And these 6 hours were allocated among 79 properties, totalling $15.80 per 7 property.

8           What's the objection here?

9           MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek.

10           It's the same issue, just different type. Here, the 11 focus of this task is litigation matters, judgment amounts,
12 judgment dates, and payment status. All 79 properties that 13 are the subject of this item do not have litigation against 14 them, do not have judgments against them.

15           And the concept that Mr. Rachlis said, which is it's 16 impossible to break these out, as the receiver, the receiver
17 has an obligation when it's making its time entries initially
18 to say, here are the 12 properties that have litigation
19 matters; I can charge those for them, if that's an appropriate 20 charge.

21           And to come back later and say, how do we break it
22 out, well, the focus of this entry is the litigation matters.
23 And we don't have any evidence which says there were ten,
24 there were twenty, or how much of my time was just preparing a 25 spreadsheet for all properties and how much was related to

1 litigation matters. But, certainly, the focus of this entry
2 is litigation matters and judgments.

3 THE COURT: Let's take a look at one more exhibit.
4 Let's go to Exhibit D. Just give me one second. This one I'm 5 going to have to upload from the docket. I think I have --
6 so, Exhibit D is 150 pages, right?

7 MS. WINE: That's correct.

8 MR. McCLAIN: Yes.

9 THE COURT: So, let's go to -- it just says Page 109.
10 So, Exhibit D, Page 109. And I guess it's dated July 1, 2010.
11 Did I -- maybe I miswrote that down, miswrote the date. Page
12 109. This particular exhibit was harder to follow.

13 So, I'm on Page 109 of Exhibit D and July 1. So, are 14 we looking at -- there's one entry dated July 1, 2019. Is 15 that the entry we should be looking at?

16 MR. McCLAIN: Yes, your Honor. Andrew McClain on 17 behalf of Exhibit D, I'll say.

18 THE COURT: So, here is the confusion. When I looked 19 at the response, the response says, quote, confer with brokers
20 M. Rachlis, A. Porter, and K. Duff relating to sale of the 21 second and third tranche, 1.5 hours. But Exhibit D, Page 109, 22 July 1, 2019, doesn't say that. So, I need to find out where 23 I should be looking to get a better understanding.

24 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, I'm not sure what the 25 technical difficulty is. But the time entry that you just

1 read is the correct time entry that we're objecting to.

2 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, we had indicated, I
3 believe, on Wednesday that this is one that we had agreed that 4 the allocation is incorrect.

5 MR. McCLAIN: And, your Honor, that highlights a
6 point that permeates our entire objection on this point, is 7 that specifically as related to Exhibit D, the receiver has 8 conceded that over 50 percent of the fees that were allocated
9 to the property in Exhibit D were improperly allocated. And 10 we briefly touched on this on Wednesday, your Honor, where the 11 receiver also acknowledged of all the objections that are 12 identified in their reply brief, there is an error rate of 17
13 percent.

14 And I recognize that this provides an inherent 15 dilemma for the Court. How do we go about determining what 16 the mathematical error rate is? And I recognize without going 17 through all 20,000 pages we won't be able to do that.

18 However, there is case law to support your Honor and 19 your Honor's ability to apply an across-the-line percentage
20 deduction for these fees. There's a case -- it's an SEC
21 receivership case. It's the SEC vs. Capital Cove Bancorp, and 22 it's 2016 WL 6078324. And within that case, the court was 23 required to analyze a, quote-unquote, massive fee application.
24 And the Court located various time entries that were of issue
25 and were objectionable. But due to the restrictions on

1 reviewing every single line item, the Court imposed an 2 across-the-board 3.6 percent reduction in the fees.

3 And that's what we would request here, is that the 4 Court apply some sort of percentage reduction. And I
5 recognize at the last hearing the Court voiced a concern,
6 well, if we reduce those fees, is the receiver never going to 7 be paid for those fees? And we have a proposal that any 8 percentage of the fees that the Court reduces -- and this is 9 separate and apart from the holdback --

10 THE COURT: Well, hold on. Let me stop you.

11 I don't think I ever voiced that objection because 12 the only issue here is whether the receiver should be paid
13 now.

14 But go on.

15 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, the issue here is where the 16 receiver is going to be paid from. And, so, if the Court
17 agrees with our objection that there is some sort of error
18 rate, which the receiver has already conceded, then we would 19 request that the Court apply some across-the-board percentage
20 deduction in the receiver's fees.

21 And to alleviate the Court's concern that the 22 receiver won't get paid for those fees, instead of that 23 percentage of deduction getting paid out from the secured
24 proceeds, that percentage deduction can be satisfied using the 25 proceeds of the unencumbered assets. So, the receiver still

1 gets paid. It's just the source of the payment isn't from the 2 secured creditors' collateral. The source of the payment is 3 from the unencumbered assets.

4 So, for instance, if the Court were to apply a three-
5 percent reduction on the receiver's fees, then that three 6 percent reduction wouldn't come from the secured creditors'
7 collateral. It would, instead, come from the unencumbered
8 assets.

9 And this is not to acknowledge or waive our rights
10 that these are proper fees. It's just a solution that we're 11 trying to come up with to help the Court resolve this inherent 12 dilemma of where we're at.

13 THE COURT: I understand that to be your alternate
14 argument.

15 But let me go back and ask the receiver whether the 16 receiver agrees with Mr. McClain's representation that the 17 receiver has admitted to a 50 percent error rate to the 18 entries represented in Exhibit D.

19 MR. RACHLIS: No, your Honor, we do not agree that 20 that's accurate.

21 I believe that there is in Exhibit D 2,186
22 objected-to entries. So, if that were the denominator, the 23 percentage is significantly less. It's probably -- I believe 24 they said there were seven corrections that we agree with.
25 So, the amount would be --

1 THE COURT: No, that's what I needed. That's fine.

2 MR. RACHLIS: So --

3 THE COURT: You dispute it. That's fine.

4 MR. RACHLIS: Absolutely. And, in fact, on the 5 disputing part, I mean, there are 2100 -- 2186 objections on 6 Exhibit D, 2800 objections in Exhibit C, 51,000 total
7 objections that were made through these -- through their 8 objections.

9 And I would also note that the ones that they've 10 identified were, you know -- from their perspective, you would 11 believe that they would have examined this closely and found
12 some that had some potential issues. They cherry-picked a few
13 totalling -- I believe there were 16 or so that were out
14 there. So, the sample size that they're saying, we dispute
15 wholeheartedly. Not just on Exhibit D, but with respect to 16 the entirety of the objections that have been raised.

17 MR. McCLAIN: And, your Honor, I just want to 18 clarify. I wasn't attempting to misrepresent anything. When 19 I said 50 percent error rate, I meant specifically to the 13
20 examples we identified in the response brief, to which the 21 receiver acknowledged in the reply brief that at least 22 seven -- or seven of those, in fact, were improperly
23 allocated.

24 THE COURT: Let me ask this question of the 25 receiver -- well, before I ask the question, let me ask you,

1 Mr. McClain. I haven't read this case that you just cited.
2 How did the Court arrive at 3.6 percent? What's the 3 rationale?

4 MR. McCLAIN: I actually don't know, your Honor. But 5 the facts of the case are that the court was reviewing a SEC
6 receiver's fee application. And this actually goes back to 7 your question on Wednesday about the purpose of holdbacks.
8 The Court imposed a 30 percent holdback on all fees and then
9 on top of that reduced it by this 3.6 percent. And it doesn't 10 say in the opinion how the court came to that very precise 11 percentage, but the court does note within the opinion several 12 times about having issues with entries.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Hanauer, I'll give you an 14 opportunity.

15 But I'm still having trouble looking at the right
16 exhibit entry. Like I said, the response says Page 109. I'm 17 on Page 109.

18 So, is the response incorrect in describing this 19 particular entry as, quote, conferred with brokers M. Rachlis,
20 et cetera, et cetera?

21 MR. McCLAIN: No, your Honor. That is the correct
22 line item that we're objecting to. And if we're looking at 23 Docket 1210 and it's Page 111 out of 150, that is where the 24 entry appears.

25 THE COURT: So, this is a practice that you all can

1 rely on. When we're talking about a document, 1210-5, the
2 page number you should be using -- and maybe I need to learn
3 this. You don't get to see the page number anyway. The 4 Court -- never mind. That's where the mistake is.

5 So, I go to 109 that's listed on the bottom of the 6 page.

7 MR. McCLAIN: I see the confusion, your Honor. It's 8 109 of --

9 THE COURT: I see it now. I see it now. So, it's 10 actually Docket No. 1210-5, Page No. 111. And it is July 1, 11 2019, and it's for $15. That's the one, right?

12 MR. McCLAIN: That is correct, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: So, this is something that the receiver
14 has said that was in error?

15 MR. McCLAIN: That is correct, your Honor. And the 16 issue here is this property 5001 South Drexel was sold in May 17 2019 as the, quote-unquote, first tranche of properties sold.
18 But this time entry relates to the sale of properties in the 19 second and third tranche. So, the time was allocated against 20 this property in error for two reasons. One, this line item
21 is two months after the sale occurred; and, second, it applies
22 to a tranche of properties in which this property was not in.

23 THE COURT: Ms. Wine, that's accurate?

24 MS. WINE: That's accurate, your Honor. The fees
25 were actually allocated to the first and second tranche

1 inadvertently. It should have been the second and third
2 tranche. So, that's in our reply brief on the chart, we 3 conceded that on -- it's Page 45 of 157.

4 THE COURT: All right.

5 Mr. Hanauer -- please have a seat. Go ahead and just 6 pull the mic closer to you.

7 MR. HANAUER: Thank you, your Honor.

8 The SEC has stayed out of the individual allocation
9 disputes, and we're not going to get into them. But as I'm 10 listening to this, hearing this fight over, you know, 45 cents
11 a property, $15 a property, one, the SEC would just note that 12 for a task this large, I think one would reasonably expect 13 there to be some errors in the process, given the tens of 14 thousands of entries and the need to allocate over a hundred
15 properties.

16 But I think this all comes back to the 20 percent
17 holdback issue. It was the lenders that requested the 18 holdback. And the rationale for requesting it, you can look 19 in Docket No. 648. It's the lenders' objections to the 20 receiver's sixth fee allocation -- or application. What the 21 lenders are saying is, we need that 20 percent holdback
22 because at this early stage we can't be sure that all of the 23 receiver's efforts benefitted the specific properties. That's 24 what the lenders are saying the reason is for the holdback.

25 And what I'm hearing about the errors now is that

1 they're below 20 percent. So, this is actually in the -- it
2 just goes to the very reason that what the lenders were 3 requesting in the first place, and it just seems to me there
4 doesn't need to be an additional three-percent holdback or 5 anything else like that.

6           These fees, as the Court is well aware, have been 7 approved. It's not an issue of whether the fees were 8 unreasonable or unwarranted or anything like that. It's just 9 did a particular effort from the receiver benefit a particular
10 property such that those fees trump the -- any secured
11 creditor's right to payment. That's what we're here about.

12           And the 20 percent holdback already solves this 13 problem. And I just don't think there's any need for 14 additional holdbacks at the time just because the Court has 15 already envisioned at the very end of the process there should 16 be room for cleanup such that it just doesn't seem we should 17 be fighting over these 45 cents or $15 entries or using them
18 to necessitate further holdback of approved fees.

19           MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor --

20           THE COURT: I mean, I agree largely with what you
21 said. But we're only dealing with a few cents or a few 22 dollars only because we are looking at several line entries.
23 When you add up those line entries, they do total something
24 significant.

25           MR. HANAUER: And I was not trying to suggest that in

1 total they don't. But what I'm hearing is in total, they're
2 less than 20 percent. And Judge Lee has already baked in the 3 solution to that problem.

4 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, if I may address the 5 holdback?

6 THE COURT: All right, Mr. McClain.

7 MR. McCLAIN: Thank you, your Honor.

8 I would just note that the Capital Cove case, the 9 court imposed a 30 percent holdback plus the 3.6 percent. So,
10 the fact that there's a holdback in place here doesn't nullify
11 the ability of the Court to further reduce it.

12 I would also note that the holdback in this instance
13 is actually 40 percent, not 20 percent, because the district
14 court judge did rule that there's an across-the-board 20 15 percent holdback, and then any fees that are paid out of 16 encumbered properties will be further held back by 20 percent.

17 But the purpose of the holdback isn't just to bake in 18 an error or to give some sort of cushion. That definitely
19 applies. The reason would also be to pay any trailing
20 expenses or something like that or emergency expenses. But 21 the other issue is there's also the need to hold back funds
22 for any appeal.

23 If there's an appeal and an appeal is successful and 24 the funds have already gone out the door to the receiver and 25 the appellate court determines that not all of those funds

1 should have gone out the door to the receiver, well, then we
2 have an issue of clawing back funds that likely have already
3 been spent, and there is an inherent issue with that. So,
4 that's another reason why there should be a holdback.

5           And the general basis for the holdback is that when 6 the Court is awarding interim fees, which it's doing here, the 7 Court doesn't have the ability to determine the full impact
8 and benefit that the receiver has conferred on the estate.
9 And the Capital Cove case discusses that specifically. And it
10 says in the case even when it's awarding the fees there, it's 11 simply too early to tell the extent to which its efforts will 12 benefit the receivership estate.

13           And we are still in that phase, your Honor. Although 14 this is an old case, there is a long way to go and we still 15 don't know the full extent of the receiver's benefit to all 16 the estate.

17           And I really want to emphasize that point because I
18 think we're getting -- we're losing the forest through the 19 trees here. This isn't just our group of clients that would 20 be impacted by this. This is any secured lender that would be 21 determined to have a secured interest in these properties.

22           And I would agree with your Honor that a few cents
23 here and there adds up. Exhibit D property, they want to 24 surcharge over a hundred thousand dollars of fees. So, these 25 dollars and cents really do add up. So, I would agree with

1 your Honor on that.

2 THE COURT: Yes?

3 MR. RACHLIS: A few points. Thank you, your Honor.

4 As to the holdback issue, your Honor, the first eight
5 applications Judge Lee actually -- there's no holdback on the 6 approved fees. It's only Applications 9 through 16, I
7 believe. And the 17th -- yes, Judge Shah on the 17th had also 8 did a 20 percent. So, I think it was important to make that 9 clarification.

10 Second, they're relitigating. The idea that Capital
11 Cove somehow supports their views is just sort of dress-up for 12 relitigation of the court's approval of the fees. In that 13 case, actually the case they're citing, involved the 14 application for fees, like the, you know -- like our 1 through 15 17, which have already been ruled upon. It wasn't so much of 16 an allocation issue.

17 And in that context, the court said the following:
18 When combined with our finding that the firm also engaged in 19 the inflationary billing practices identified above, namely, 20 the creation --

21 THE COURT: I'm sorry, when you read, you go faster.

22 MR. RACHLIS: I apologize.

23 THE COURT: Can you say that one more time.

24 MR. RACHLIS: I will.

25 I'm reading from star Page 4 of that decision. And

1 quote: When combined with our finding that the firm also
2 engaged in the inflationary billing practice identified above,
3 namely, the creation of specific separate billing events for 4 brief, mundane tasks, the Court imposes an across-the-board
5 reduction of 3.6 percent, which reflects a 20 percent cut in 6 the hours claimed for receivership team communications.

7 So, it was focusing on an activity, focusing on a fee
8 petition.

9 So, this is just another effort to now relitigate
10 Applications 1 through 13 that Judge Lee has long approved.
11 It's another way of relitigating the issue of benefit, which 12 should not be relitigated. So, I would suggest that all of 13 that should be put aside.

14 THE COURT: All right.

15 I'm ready to rule on the first, No. 1 objection,
16 improper allocation. The receiver has admitted to certain 17 errors, and they have committed to making those changes or 18 corrections to make sure that certain allocations are not
19 made. However, I have certainly gone through the line entries
20 myself. And this is Exhibit 1 to the motion for allocation.
21 I admit I didn't look at every single line, but I did look at 22 a good chunk of those lines. And I don't get the sense that 23 the Court should not rely on the receiver's representation.

24 And to your objection, Mr. Damashek, that there was 25 block billing -- I think that's what you're saying, they're

1 block billing. The problem there is this: We only know what
2 we see. In other words, what would have happened if Mr. Duff
3 decides, oh, my God, I'm going to get objections left and
4 right; I need to deal with one building at a time. So, let's
5 talk about Building 56; okay, now I'm going to stop my clock,
6 let's talk about Building 58.

7 My point is I don't get the sense from the billing
8 that there was sort of capricious assignment of fees to 9 various properties. It appears to me from reviewing the time
10 sheets that Mr. Duff and his team did the best that they could 11 under the circumstances to allocate these fees.

12 If you were to actually separate the block billing,
13 the probability that the fees will be much more than 3.2 hours
14 is high. In other words, the receiver may be spending more
15 time as a result of having to not block bill.

16 And my guess is that everyone in this room has 17 engaged in block billing. There's no way that you're talking 18 to a client on the phone about various matters that's going on 19 and you are actually billing this particular telephone
20 conversation with .2 hours for motion for summary judgment, .3
21 hours for settlement. Probably not. I wish that were the 22 case because I have to deal with fee petitions all the time.
23 But that doesn't happen. I accept that as part of acceptable
24 practice in the billing department.

25 In terms of these little problems that we are having,

1 again, under the circumstances they amount to no more than 2 nitpicking. And I'm not saying that in a disparaging way that
3 the lenders are nitpicking. But it doesn't change the fact
4 that when we are talking about these various errors, it does
5 amount to nitpicking.

6 And perhaps if the system was different, we would
7 have a better accuracy. In other words, when we have 108
8 properties, maybe we should have had four receivers dedicated 9 to specific buildings. But that's not the case. It is what 10 it is. We only had one receiver having to deal with 108
11 properties.

12 And, again, from my review, I don't see how the 13 objection should hold and deny the motion for allocation, at 14 least based on the improper allocation objection. That's my 15 ruling as to No. 1.

16 Let's move on to No. 2, general receivership
17 activities.

18 So, here, I think, if I understand the argument
19 correctly, there's not enough details to the task description
20 to say whether these line entries actually fall within the two 21 categories approved by the Court. The first category being 22 the preservation, management, liquidation of real estate
23 belonging to the estate, and the second category being the 24 implementation and management of an orderly summary
25 claim-priority adjudication process.

1 Do I have that right?

2 MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek.

3 Yes, that's correct.

4 THE COURT: All right.

5 MR DAMASHEK: And it's also sort of the breadth of 6 the reporting, which comes up in other categories, as well.
7 But there really is no specificity that ties the entries to 8 particular properties. They're really general
9 administrative --

10 THE COURT: Let's go to an example. Exhibit C, I
11 have 2184. Again, these line numbers are coming from the 12 response brief. Exhibit C, 2184.

13 So, if I'm reading this correctly, it's for asset
14 disposition, entry date April 15, 2020. Task description:
15 Calculate prorated property taxes for various properties and 16 update settlement statements regarding same, 1.4 hours. This 17 is divided among 36 properties. Each property being charged 18 $5.44.

19 Number one, I read the right line, correct?

20 MR. DAMASHEK: Correct.

21 THE COURT: Now, tell me, what is the objection to 22 this particular line entry?

23 MR. DAMASHEK: Which of the secured properties of the 24 36 included in this task had taxes being allocated or prorated
25 for them? This says various properties. Has the receiver

1 submitted evidence that all 36 of these properties were having
2 taxes prorated for them? Similarly, with respect to the 3 settlement statements, were the settlement statements for all
4 36 properties or were these some within this particular
5 tranche?

6 We just don't have the specificity. It's, again,
7 across a larger group of properties.

8 THE COURT: So, why isn't it specific enough that 9 this line entry appears for the statements pertaining to the 10 36 properties?

11 MR. DAMASHEK: Well, the entry, like many others,
12 says: Prorated taxes for various properties and updated
13 settlement statements regarding those properties.

14 Is there any evidence submitted to this Court -- I
15 don't believe so -- that the property taxes and the settlement
16 statements were for these -- all 36 properties as compared to 17 some within the tranche?

18 THE COURT: Mr. Rachlis?

19 MR. RACHLIS: We believe --

20 THE COURT: So, the idea here -- so, the objection
21 here is, Mr. Damashek says, look, if you look at the entry, it
22 just simply says various properties. How do you go from that 23 description to 36 properties that you are dividing the fees 24 among?

25 MR. RACHLIS: By having the timekeeper go back and

1 looking at what was going on on that date at that time and the 2 reviews that were ongoing, and then having that process being 3 reviewed by the receiver, who was also involved with those 4 issues, or with others that were involved, in order to 5 determine which properties, to the best of our ability, had 6 these issues at that time.

7 THE COURT: So, tell me, you said timekeeper.
8 Timekeeper is making this entry and then identifying 36
9 properties. How are you going from this entry to 36
10 properties?

11 MR. DUFF: Your Honor, Kevin Duff. May I respond?

12 THE COURT: Yes.

13 MR. DUFF: So, for those tasks that did not have an 14 allocation in the original narrative, we asked all of the 15 timekeepers to go back and look at every single one of those 16 task items incrementally; to then provide an allocation for 17 that task.

18 So, in this instance, the timekeeper, which I believe 19 is Ms. Rack, who is one of our paralegals, went back, looked 20 at what she was doing that day. I can't sit and tell you
21 right now what exactly she looked at, but I presume she was 22 looking at her notes from her timekeeping, her e-mails, the 23 date -- any date stamps on documents she was working on and 24 she came up with the allocation to confirm that the various 25 properties was not all of the properties in the estate, but

1 was these 36. And, then, that allocation was then reviewed by 2 either Ms. Wine or myself or both of us.

3 THE COURT: So, when we're billing files, usually the 4 program that you're using, you have to put in the client code
5 first, the task, and the time to be billed. What exactly --
6 what program is your office and your team using to track time
7 entries?

8 MR. DUFF: We have a very manual process, your Honor.
9 So, we don't have a time and billing system that allows us to,
10 say, pull a dropdown where we can select, for example, which 11 properties were at issue. We had to go in and add that 12 manually. So, what we ended up doing over time was we 13 adjusted the manner in which we were providing the 14 allocations.

15 If you look at the later-in-time fee applications, 16 you'll see that the task narratives always include the 17 properties to which each task is allocated. Earlier in time,
18 in the early days of the receivership, that wasn't being done
19 as consistently. And that's why we had to go through the 20 process of going back and making sure that those allocations
21 were provided.

22 So, when your Honor's looking at the fee allocation
23 reports that we've provided for the Court, that's because a 24 determination was made to confirm which properties each of 25 those tasks should properly be allocated to. We spent

1 hundreds -- frankly, more than a thousand hours of our firm's
2 time to make sure that we got that right.

3 THE COURT: Let's go to a different entry. Take a
4 look at Exhibit D. So, it's Page No. 133. June 6th, 2020. I
5 think it's the second entry, right?

6 MR. McCLAIN: There are two entries, your Honor. Are 7 you referring to the "assemble all files"?

8 THE COURT: Well, I mean, we can do that one, too. I
9 don't really care. I was looking at the first blue line. But 10 we can look at the second one, too.

11 So, the third entry on this page -- so, this is 12 Docket No. 1210-5, 135 is the page number. The page number on 13 the bottom of the document, it says 133 of 148. So, the third
14 entry says: Assemble all files relating to any administrative 15 or housing court proceedings pertaining to any receivership
16 properties between 2018 and the present, 2.4 hours. And this 17 is for 5001 South Drexel Boulevard, specifically for this 18 property, right?

19 MR. McCLAIN: It's been allocated against this 20 property, your Honor, as well as --

21 THE COURT: Oh, I see. Not all 2.4 hours.

22 MR. McCLAIN: Right.

23 THE COURT: A fraction of -- well, I guess .03.

24 So, tell me what is wrong with this entry?

25 MR. McCLAIN: Well, your Honor, this is --

1 THE COURT: Mr. McClain.

2 MR. McCLAIN: Yes. Mr. McClain.

3 This property was sold in May 2019, your Honor. So,
4 this property was sold over a year prior to this. And, so, we 5 just don't believe that this should be properly allocated to 6 this property. And, then, in the receiver's response, he 7 actually makes reference to the receiver needed to provide 8 notice --

9 THE COURT: I'm sorry. Can you get closer.

10 MR. McCLAIN: I'm sorry.

11 In the receiver's response -- it's Docket No. 2030,
12 Page 47 of 157 -- part of the justification for allocating 13 this property -- or this entry to this specific property was 14 the work -- excuse me, the receiver needed to provide notice
15 of pending cases to prospective purchasers of each property.

16 There is no prospective purchaser here because this 17 property was sold over a year prior to this time being 18 incurred.

19 THE COURT: Response?

20 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, there are many times from 21 the City of Chicago that notices are provided months --
22 months, if not longer -- with regard to violation notices.
23 We've had that happen consistently throughout the receivership
24 where we got notices associated with properties already sold,
25 and those had to be dealt with, as well.

1           So, when we were looking to have a comprehensive 2 review go on, there was -- it took care of both the fact that 3 we were looking at current properties that weren't sold, as 4 well as anything else that we'd be able to locate or deal with 5 associated with notices that were out there, or judgments or 6 anything of the sort, regarding properties that we ultimately 7 would need to deal with. So, that's the situation. And 8 that's been a constant not just for Drexel, but for other
9 properties, as well.

10           MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, this is a prime example of 11 the type of work that would qualify under general operations
12 administration of the estate. This type of work provided 13 absolutely no benefit to this property. The property was 14 already sold. Money was in the door for the sale proceeds.
15 The work the receiver is doing isn't going to advance or 16 benefit this property at all. This is just general
17 administrative-type tasks that should not be surcharged to a
18 specific property.

19           THE COURT: Yeah, but it's related to asset
20 disposition. It's related to sales. I mean, one can't have a 21 very -- too narrow of an interpretation as to what is 22 considered management and sales. I mean, we have to take into 23 account whatever task is -- whatever task needs to be 24 performed that touches on these topics of sales, management, 25 administration, those fees are proper, at least according

1 to -- at least the way I look at it.

2 But go ahead, Mr. McClain. You wanted to say
3 something else.

4 MR. McCLAIN: Thank you, your Honor.

5 But that's not the standard that's promulgated in 6 Elliott. The standard that's promulgated in Elliott is the 7 secured creditors should only be charged for the benefit they 8 actually receive.

9 THE COURT: I think you don't have to say that 10 anymore, because I think we've discussed that issue at the 11 last hearing, that there is this fundamental difference of an 12 opinion as to how the objecting lenders see the nexus required
13 and how the court -- at least the way this Court sees it --
14 based on prior rulings of the Court.

15 So, again, that's been said on the record multiple 16 times, and that doesn't need to be repeated.

17 MR. McCLAIN: Understood. Thank you, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Let me look at one more. Let's take a 19 look at Exhibit D, January 5, 2021, Page No. 143. So, on the 20 docket, it is Document No. 1210-5, Page 145, and it bears the 21 page number of 143 of 148. We're looking at January 5, 2021.

22 So, if I'm reading the right entry, it's the blue
23 entry, January 5, 2021. It says: Organization and research
24 property information related to original Equitybuild purchase
25 dates, recording dates, purchase price, Equitybuild debt, and

1 mechanic's lien regarding properties in receivership and 2 previously acquired and sold properties and update Equitybuild
3 portfolio spreadsheet.

4           And it looks like from the apportionment -- or I
5 should say, allocation of .02 -- was this divided among all
6 103 properties? It's hard to tell from Exhibit D.

7           Anyway, let me ask the lenders, what is the objection
8 here?

9           MR. McCLAIN: Well, your Honor, there's several 10 issues here. One, the entry is extremely ambiguous. It is 11 entirely unclear what is actually even happening, let alone
12 which properties this applies to. And this is also charged to 13 5001 South Drexel, which was sold in May 2019. And, so, what 14 work is the receiver doing related to mechanics liens or -- 15 this entry just doesn't make sense in the context of the 16 property it's getting charged against.

17           THE COURT: Mr. Rachlis?

18           MR. RACHLIS: I would say it's very similar to the 19 prior -- to the rationale in the prior entry. Keeping in mind
20 that these properties, these secured -- these claimants -- the 21 process is ongoing still. So, there still hasn't been 22 resolution of City of Chicago claims that could be filed or 23 other types of things. So, 5001 Drexel was still part of the 24 claims process, as were virtually every property. The claims
25 process that Judge Lee ordered hadn't even begun yet. So, we

1 were -- it was still in negotiation.

2           So, we are still working on a host of things in order
3 to be sure that what is there is correct, dealing with all the 4 types of issues that you'd normally deal with associated with 5 properties. Ongoing notices that are received and then
6 dealing with claims, as well, so that we have that information
7 as we're approaching working on the claims process.

8           THE COURT: Thank you.

9           I do understand the lenders' objection. It seems to 10 be pretty clear on the surface: Hey, this property was sold 11 in 2019, so why are you billing us for things that are 12 happening two years later?

13           But I do accept the receiver's explanation that just 14 because a property is sold doesn't mean that the receiver's
15 job has ended with respect to that property, as explained by 16 Mr. Rachlis.

17           And this kind of ties in nicely with what we 18 discussed on Wednesday regarding title examination. It seems 19 to me that it does -- it did make a whole lot of sense to 20 really look into the properties in order to make sure that if 21 there are any aftershocks, that the damage isn't going to be 22 too great.

23           I overrule No. 2 objection in response 1210 titled,
24 "General Receivership Activities."

25           Let me go to Exhibit -- let me go to Objection 11. I

1 think this is somewhat related to Objection No. 2.

2 Is that right?

3 MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek --

4 THE COURT: Hold on.

5 Objection No. 11 is inadequacy of the receiver's
6 explanation. This is again Response Document No. 1210 on Page 7 20.

8 Mr. Damashek?

9 MR. DAMASHEK: Yes, Judge. This relates to 2, as 10 well as many of the other entries. Essentially, we have the 11 receiver responding --

12 THE COURT: I'm sorry. Can I just -- hold your 13 thought. Let's just go ahead and take a ten-minute break.

14 (Brief recess.)

15 THE COURT: We're back on the record.

16 Mr. Damashek, please. Sorry for the interruption.
17 Go ahead.

18 MR. DAMASHEK: No problem, Judge.

19 This last category really comes up in the reply brief
20 related to the receiver's explanations. We've had -- and I'm 21 just going to ballpark -- let's say, a hundred objections.
22 Receiver's come back and said 17 percent of these are 23 incorrect, 40 percent of these -- and I'm now only talking 24 about the entries, the hundred -- are incorrect. And we have 25 explanations.

1           But there really is no evidence throughout a lot of 2 our objections, the responses and the receiver's report itself
3 as to the basis for them. So, for instance, where the 4 receiver says, oh, that one that we said had 36 problems in 5 it, it really only applies to six or seven properties. That's 6 just the receiver concluding that without evidence to support
7 it.

8           We've had a lot of explanations in court as to how 9 1.4 hours of time really apply to 36 properties rather than 10 otherwise. But the essence of this Category 11 is we should 11 have evidence. We should have detail.

12           As Mr. Duff stated, in the later entries, for 13 instance, they put down every property to which a particular 14 problem applied. But for the first year or so or more or less
15 exactly, the receiver didn't do that. So, there's just this 16 lack of detail and lack of evidence from which the Court or 17 the other parties can make a determination.

18           Another example -- and I'll finish up here -- is the 19 entry that might say "call" or the entry that might have a
20 little bit more. The receiver said, well, you should go back
21 and look at 10,000 pages of invoices to see what the balance
22 of that entry said. And that's just not a burden that this 23 Court should have to undertake or that we should have to 24 undertake. The entries should have been detailed in the first 25 place, properly supported in the first place.

1 THE COURT: Response, Mr. Rachlis.

2 As I understand the objection, many of these entries
3 simply do not have enough information to allow a level of 4 comfort for the claimants that these hours were, in fact,
5 expended for the purpose described.

6 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, that argument in some sense
7 is an effort to relitigate Judge Lee's and Judge Shah's
8 ultimate approvals of every one of the fee applications.
9 Every fee application that was provided was, of course, itself
10 provided to the SEC, then provided to the Court. The Court
11 approved each of those applications.

12 In addition, of course, every one of those 13 applications was objected to by these same objectors. Those 14 objectors could have and did try and argue with Judge Lee
15 about every possible item. I mean, it's -- the docket speaks
16 for itself. But nevertheless, the Court ruled on those. Not 17 only found those to be appropriate, but also found that they 18 were -- ultimately found that there was benefit that was 19 provided to these properties.

20 So, in many respects, this is simply an effort to 21 relitigate 17 -- ultimately, 17 different applications. So, I
22 would suggest that that itself is inappropriate. But it also 23 is -- it ignores a few other things.

24 The first thing that it ignores is the fact that the 25 receiver has taken a big burden on. The receiver has gone

1 back and spent -- it's well more than a thousand hours of time
2 on the after -- taking nothing but approved entries -- nothing
3 but approved entries -- and going ahead and --

4 THE COURT: Let me stop you.

5 When you say you "burden," are you eating these fees?

6 MR. RACHLIS: There is -- we have not filed -- there
7 is no -- none of the entries or issues before the Court are 8 for recovery of any of the fees that have been --

9 THE COURT: I'm sorry, go on.

10 MR. RACHLIS: -- that's been present.

11 So, we've taken that burden. So, the idea somehow 12 that there's been no burden that has been placed on the 13 receivership in order to provide the information to the Court
14 is absolutely false. I think the Court can see that just from 15 all of the exhibits, all of the work that was done to go back
16 through and create these allocations, these exhibits,
17 everything of this nature.

18 The only party that hasn't executed a burden here is 19 -- at this point in time would be these minority of objectors.
20 The other secured creditors are -- alleged secured creditors
21 and others have not filed their objections, have not -- told
22 the Court they don't have an objection. After 17 different
23 applications where these objectors go ahead and file whatever 24 they wish to file and make their objections, now they're 25 saying that they really don't have to do anything specific

1 about it, it's really our burden.

2 We have come forward and provided an extraordinary
3 amount of information and they're still saying that, well,
4 it's not really their burden, they don't have to do anything
5 about it. And the Court can just reject everything based on 6 that. Don't find that to be a very persuasive type of 7 position to take.

8 But I'd go a step further, your Honor. What they 9 reject is the practical nature of where this is at. They well
10 know because they've been the most active participants in the 11 building in terms of every step of the way, every action that 12 has been taken. So, in 2019, when there was litigation about 13 credit bidding or about sales of properties or about their 14 sales process, our time is all entered and you can look
15 chronologically at everything that was going on. The docket
16 mirrors everything that was going on --

17 THE COURT: Let me stop you.

18 MR. RACHLIS: -- all with respect to their
19 activities.

20 THE COURT: Let me stop you.

21 Mr. Damashek's objection really is the lack of 22 evidence that certain entries should, in fact, be divided
23 among 35 properties. In other words, I don't necessarily 24 understand the argument to be re-litigating the reasonableness
25 of the charges or the tasks performed are reasonable for

1 purposes of this case, but the lack of nexus between the 2 apportionment of the charge over 35 properties and the task
3 performed.

4 MR. RACHLIS: I would say that there's still -- the 5 two responses that I provide are still applicable. One is the 6 work that was being done in order to create the allocations
7 themselves. I mean, we went back on the bills that were 8 approved, all approved time. So, it's not like there was new 9 things that were added. So, these were all from fee entries
10 that Judge Lee had approved. And we have gone back to -- 11 taken the burden of looking back in time. We have gone back 12 and looked at the docket. We've gone back and looked at 13 e-mails in order to make an earnest effort -- which is what 14 the case law talks about -- in order to try and allocate. I
15 don't know how that can be disputed.

16 But I also think that the docket itself, the 17 activities that were going on -- which we reviewed in order to 18 help provide the best allocations that we could, to make an 19 earnest effort to do so -- those are all embodied within here.

20 So, the idea somehow that there's not evidence before
21 the Court to tie that nexus, I don't think that's accurate. I
22 actually think that the docket -- that the effort, the burden
23 that we've provided and set forth in our pleadings that was 24 done along -- that is objectively tied to all of the work and 25 activity done by event, if you will, many of which were

1 created by these same lenders, is something that I think helps
2 with that nexus that the Court is asking about.

3 THE COURT: Let me ask this question. Has the court
4 ever -- in dealing with the fee applications, has the court
5 ever cast doubt on the receiver's credibility?

6 Mr. Rachlis?

7 MR. RACHLIS: No, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Was there ever an order questioning the 9 veracity of any of the bill entries?

10 MR. RACHLIS: No, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: What about from the lenders' side? Any 12 orders you can think of or any statement from the court?

13 MR. DAMASHEK: Ron Damashek.

14 Judge, I'm not aware of any statements questioning
15 the credibility of the receiver with respect to the entries.

16 But the entries and the fee petitions were all viewed
17 in the context of the estate, not allocation to the secured
18 properties. And, so, the entire argument that Mr. Rachlis is 19 making -- which is there were 17 fee applications and they 20 could have reviewed the invoices -- the purpose of those fee
21 applications were, were the fees proper or not. The court has 22 ruled and granted whatever fees the court has ruled. What the 23 court has never addressed is whether they should be allocated
24 to the secured properties, and that's the purpose of this 25 hearing.

1 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, may I just have one brief
2 response?

3 THE COURT: Yes.

4 MR. RACHLIS: Actually, disagree that the court has
5 not discussed the allocation rulings. I think that the court
6 actually has said that with regards to fees that were incurred
7 that benefitted the property -- and he found that there --
8 that these did benefit these various properties and such -- 9 that those are properly allocated. I mean, he is -- I think
10 there's absolutely -- that issue has been addressed not only 11 by Judge Lee, who's had much -- a lot more time involved, but 12 Judge Shah in his most recent rulings, as well. So, I don't 13 think that that's a fair characterization.

14 Of course, it's fair that Judge Lee did not look at 15 the allocations as your Honor's doing right now, but Judge
16 Shah actually did on the last application and found those 17 allocations to be appropriate.

18 THE COURT: Well, I don't know what that particular 19 application had, so I really can't rely on that.

20 In terms of this particular objection, I am
21 overruling the objection. I don't think that the Court can 22 ask the receiver for the impossible. When we talk about 23 evidence -- so, we have two, three standards. Even if we were 24 to use a preponderance of the evidence, I mean, we don't want
25 to have a trial within a trial. We don't want to have a

1 mini-litigation within a litigation. And I think the burden
2 would be too great for the receiver to actually submit
3 invoices and receipts showing the names of the buildings or 4 the addresses of the buildings that pertain -- that are 5 related to the task performed.

6 In our system, I think it's fair to say that there is 7 a great degree of an honor system when it comes to accepting 8 the representations of the attorneys -- not just the receiver,
9 but attorneys -- as officers of the Court. For example, when 10 we do discovery under Rules 33 and 34, oftentimes a signature
11 is just good enough to actually accept that he or she made
12 reasonable efforts to comply with the discovery obligations.
13 When we talk about evidence, it can take various forms. The 14 application itself is considered evidence. The allocation
15 tables themselves are considered evidence.

16 I admit that I am not as informed as the attorneys in 17 this room, but the task is before me to decide whether 18 allocations are proper. And all I can do is to go through the 19 briefs and the tables, the Excel spreadsheets the parties have 20 submitted. And I'm not seeing anything for me to say, my 21 gosh, we need to do this all over again because I don't trust
22 it, I don't believe it, there are many problems with it.

23 And I am benefitting from the hearings on Wednesday
24 and today to get a better look at what the objections are.
25 But at the end of the day, I do believe that the receiver has

1 shown sufficient evidence and information to the Court to say
2 that the allocations are proper. Proper enough, right?

3 And in terms of actually applying a wholesale
4 discount rate -- if I understand that particular concept, what
5 we're saying is, look, this particular fee allocation requests
6 a sum certain. We should slash that by 3.6 or whatever
7 percentage, put that amount on the back burner and we'll deal
8 with it later. And on top of that, we should take 20 percent
9 of that sub-total, put that amount in a different category so
10 that we can deal with it at a later time.

11 I'm not willing to do that not only because Judge Lee 12 has already ruled as to what exactly the protocol is going to 13 be. I am to review whether the allocations are proper. I am
14 to review whether those allocations are related to the two 15 categories of fees to be awarded. Then only 20 percent of 16 that is to be held back. So, I don't have the authority to 17 apply this across-the-board discount rate.

18 Perhaps in that case you mentioned, SEC vs.
19 Capital -- I forget the full name. But perhaps that judge is 20 a district judge who had the authority to do whatever he or 21 she wanted. I don't.

22 I do accept the receiver's representation that they 23 have undertaken a substantial and herculean effort, quite 24 frankly, in terms of going back and trying to figure out,
25 okay, we have this entry, how do we divide it?

1           If you look at Exhibit 1 -- by the way, I was looking 2 at the Excel spreadsheet native document, not the one on the 3 docket -- you can tell that there was effort made to make sure
4 that these tasks are divided in the right way. I'm not seeing 5 a pattern where simply saying, oh, let's just put in ten
6 properties for this task; we'll put in 103 for this task. I'm 7 just not seeing that. And having gone through, understanding
8 better the objections, my perception hasn't changed.

9           So, for those reasons, the receiver's first motion
10 for allocation is granted.

11           So, what now has to happen is the receiver has to go
12 back, redo the math, take out the amounts that have been 13 resolved, reallocate the erroneous entries. And, then, what I
14 need from the receiver is, I don't know what you would call 15 it, a supplement to the fee allocation showing me what was 16 asked for before, what is the correct amount now, what amounts
17 have been fixed, and what amounts I need to approve in terms
18 of distribution and holdback.

19           How much time do you need to prepare that supplement?

20           MR. DUFF: Your Honor, Kevin Duff.

21           I believe that that -- we need to check with a vendor
22 that supports us on this effort and Ms. Wine is out next week.
23 So, I'm going to say I believe we can do it in 21 days.

24           THE COURT: March 3rd.

25           Now, in terms of -- and I also need a draft order to

1 be e-mailed to the Proposed_Order_Kim@ilnd inbox, and I'll put 2 that in the order today.

3 We also have to deal with the second motion for fee
4 application. This is Document No. 1321.

5 And I take it that the lenders would like to file a
6 response?

7 MR. McCLAIN: Yes, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 How much time do you want?

10 MR. McCLAIN: Can we have 60 days, your Honor?

11 THE COURT: April 14.

12 MR. McCLAIN: Thank you, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Reply?

14 MR. RACHLIS: 30 days, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: That's May 12.

16 I'm going to set a hearing so I don't lose track of 17 this case.

18 Can you check your schedule for June 6th at 1:00 p.m.

19 MR. RACHLIS: Which day, your Honor?

20 THE COURT: June 6, 1:00 p.m.

21 MR. DAMASHEK: Judge, Ron Damashek.

22 Would it be possible to push it back a week further?

23 I may be out of town that first week of June.

24 THE COURT: June 15, 1:00 p.m.

25 MR. RACHLIS: Your Honor, that's fine.

1 I'm reminded by my colleagues that we have a trial in 2 May that may stretch into that week of May 12th. Would it be
3 all right with your Honor if we had until May 19th to --

4 THE COURT: Yes.

5 MR. RACHLIS: Thank you, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: We'll keep the hearing date as is, June
7 15 at 1:00 p.m. in this courtroom.

8 Anything else from the receiver?

9 MR. RACHLIS: No, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: From the objectors?

11 MR. McCLAIN: Your Honor, I do just want to clarify
12 the issue of the holdback and just to clarify what the Court's
13 ruling is on that, and to respond to the statement by the SEC
14 attorney.

15 If I understand it correctly, the district court
16 judge has already ruled that there's an across-the-board
17 holdback of 20 percent on all fees, and then there's an 18 additional 20 percent holdback on any fees paid out from these 19 secured properties. So, that's effectively a 40 percent
20 holdback.

21 And the basis that the SEC took for basically 22 opposing our objections and saying the holdback protects us in 23 some way because there's still going to be these excess funds, 24 well, we are concerned if the Court is overruling our 25 objections right now, is the Court also taking the position

1 that we can never seek turnover of those funds at a later
2 date?

3 THE COURT: I'm glad that you mentioned that because 4 one thing that I forgot to mention is that when there are 5 errors, the receiver has said, yes, we made those errors and 6 we'll fix them.

7 And as you said, unfortunately, this case will go on 8 for months, if not -- hopefully not, but years. And as I see
9 it, the holdback is a way to have security that if more errors
10 are located, the receiver will correct those errors and those 11 funds will be essentially withdrawn or I should say pushed
12 back to the back burner from that holdback.

13 That also reminds me we probably should have -- I'm 14 sorry, when did I say -- oh, the supplement is due on March 15 3rd. We probably should have a hearing just to make sure that 16 the holdback calculation and the other calculations are 17 accurate.

18 Can you all check March 9 at 2:30.

19 MR. HANAUER: Your Honor, I will be out of town that 20 day the following week. I don't necessarily need to be here
21 if -- because I've been staying out of --

22 THE COURT: Let's see what the others say and then --

23 MR. NATARELLI: Brett Natarelli.

24 I have a conflict that day, Judge, I can't move.

25 MR. McCLAIN: I also have a conflict, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Let's pick another date.

2 How does March 15th look, 1:00 p.m.?

3 MR. McCLAIN: Works for me, your Honor. And it looks
4 like --

5 MR. NATARELLI: Your Honor, I have to be in DuPage
6 County that day for another hearing.

7 THE COURT: Well, I'm not sure that we need everyone
8 from the lenders to appear. This is really for us to have an 9 opportunity for me to hear from the lenders whether the 10 numbers are incorrect. Because the supplement is not going to 11 be merit based. It's simply -- it's going to be just 12 mathematical calculations as to what properties have been 13 resolved. You know, this is the total some of the fees we're 14 looking at and here's the holdback, right?

15 So, I probably just need one or two representatives
16 from the lenders to be able to voice any concerns about the 17 numbers. Does that make sense?

18 MR. NATARELLI: Yes. And I can send a colleague from 19 our firm, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: So, I prefer to have that hearing as 21 quickly as possible. So, if March 15 works for the receiver
22 and Mr. McClain said he's okay with March 15, I'd rather do it
23 on March 15 at 1:00 p.m. We'll do it in court.

24 Obviously, please feel free to notify our courtroom
25 deputy if there aren't any issues with the numbers. And I'm

1 not saying that by saying that you don't have any issues with 2 the numbers, you're somehow waiving any rights to object.

3 I'm sorry, going back to Mr. McClain's question, my 4 ruling is limited to what I just ruled in terms of the fee
5 allocation. I am not barring the lenders from doing whatever
6 they need to do to protect your interests. And I don't know
7 how else that I can answer that question. It's hard for me to 8 say what you're foreclosed to do because I'm not sure what 9 issues you're going to be raising.

10 But the first step is to get this supplement done,
11 get the numbers right, get the order issued granting the 12 motion in specific sums. Then the lenders can go to Judge
13 Shah and deal with the objections.

14 MR. McCLAIN: Thank you, your Honor.

15 One other point of clarification. The supplement
16 that the receiver is going to prepare, which entries are they 17 supposed to correct? Are they supposed to conduct a review of 18 the ones --

19 THE COURT: No.

20 MR. McCLAIN: -- we objected to or just the ones --

21 THE COURT: Correct. Just the ones they admitted to 22 for the time being. Again, if there are other entries that 23 are in error, then they'll be dealt with at that point.

24 MR. McCLAIN: Thank you, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, all.
